The College

Queens, a church-related liberal arts college for women, is located in Charlotte, North Carolina. Its programs are accredited by the Southern Association of Schools and Colleges and the National Association of Schools of Music. Queens College is also approved for veterans' education.

History

Queens was founded in 1857 as the Charlotte Female Institute, then located on College Street near the center of the city. For five years after 1891 it was called the Seminary for Girls, and upon affiliation with the Presbyterian Synod of North Carolina in 1896, was known as the Presbyterian College for Women. In 1912, anticipating the move to its present campus in the Myers Park residential area in 1914, it became Queens College.

That name revived pre-Revolutionary traditions, for in 1771 a group of North Carolina colonists sought a royal charter for Queens College to be located in the town of Charlotte which was named for the British queen, Charlotte of Mecklenburg. George III refused the petition, doubting the wisdom of creating an institution to perpetuate non-conformist views favored by the Scotch-Irish Presbyterians who had settled in Piedmont Carolina. A school was chartered in 1773, however, under the unusual title of Queens Museum. During the Revolution it sympathized with the colonial cause and became known as the Liberty Hall Academy. The academy's post-Revolutionary history is sketchy, but in 1821 the Male and Female Academy Corporation was chartered to operate the Liberty Male Academy, the precursor of Davidson College, and the Charlotte Female Academy, the precursor of the Charlotte Female Institute.

In 1930, Queens became related to the Presbyterian Synod of South Carolina through a merger with Chicora College, Columbia, S. C. (formerly in Greenville). Since Chicora itself had earlier merged with the College for Women, Columbia, Queens continues the tradition of two South Carolina women's colleges. With the creation of the Synod of the Southeast in 1973, Queens' official church relationship was extended to include Presbyterians in Georgia as well as those in the Carolinas.

The Board of Trustees holds title to the property of the college and is responsible for Queens' total program. The 30-member board—composed of business, professional, religious, and alumnae leaders—is elected by the Synod of North Carolina (10 members), the Synod of the Southeast (8), trustees (8), and the Queens College Alumnae Association (4).

Statement of Philosophy And Mission

Queens College is a private, Presbyterian, liberal arts college for women. It is small by design and concentrates on preparing women within a distinctive and vital learning community to meet the challenge of academic and cultural excellence.

As a college for women, Queens advocates and works towards the preparation of women for varied and changing roles in society: career and professional opportunity, marriage and family, and civic and community leadership, within a framework that stresses the joy of liberal learning and the rigor of intellectual discipline. The college seeks to give a woman disciplined self-confidence and sound judgment and to encourage in her qualities of leadership and concern for others.

A fundamental commitment of the college is to help women learn how to learn. Queens recognizes the historical circumstances which make the present time especially opportune for the advancement of women and recognizes also that, for full liberation, women must be engaged in a serious, exciting learning experience which will develop the life and mind and the spirit in a vitalizing and scholarly way.

Learning to learn fosters an ability to read with insight, to write with precision and to speak with clarity. Each student is taught to be intellectually alive and curious and to employ, in a disciplined and creative way, the unique potential she possesses.

Each student learns to focus on productivity both for herself and her community. Initiative, industry and self-reliance are translated from self-awareness and personal growth into the awareness of the need to serve and a concern for others. Students are encouraged to learn not only the substance of their own culture but are also taught intercultural and international understanding. Thus, their sense of community is broadened to include a global perspective.

Each student should learn to care. Unapologetically and without any attempt to coerce or indoctrinate, the value background of Queens College is the Judaeo-Christian heritage. Underlying each aspect of college life is the encouragement and cultivation of sound moral and spiritual values. These values form the basis in which the liberal arts instruction is set as Queens seeks to combine caring teachers and enlightened academic and social policies into a learning community which knows the moral ends it seeks: a just, enlightened, humane society. Into this framework the college welcomes students of all faiths and beliefs.

Queens also recognizes that the tenor of student life is as significant a factor in student development as is an excellent academic program. Its smallness enables Queens to accentuate concern for the individual and to provide the personal and intellectual interaction, caring, fun and fellowship that are possible in such a setting. A sense of belonging and of college spirit results for faculty and students alike.

Thus, learning, caring and productivity come together into a life of meaningful wholeness. The mission of the college is to develop these aspects of mind and spirit in preparing a woman intellectually aware, academically competent, spiritually challenged and personally fulfilled for a successful future.

The members of the Queens community call on all who believe in these principles to join with them in the continuing development of the spirit and substance of this mission.

Student Life

Queens College is aware that a major part of a student's education takes place outside the classroom in day-to-day living experiences and campus activities. Through group participation and interaction, the student comes to know herself as an individual, to realize her opportunities, and to be a creative member of the college community. To stimulate this process the college encourages student initiative and responsibility through student government, the honor system, organizations, and activities.

Honor Code

The Honor Code is one of the cherished possessions of Queens College and is of fundamental importance in the educational experience.

The Honor Code regulates all phases of college life and is binding on all members of the community. The Code is based on three basic principles: (1) truthfulness at all times; (2) respect for the property of others; (3) honesty in tests, examinations, term papers and all other academic assignments.

When a member of the college community signs the Honor Code, it is an acceptance of the responsibilities of the honor system. This enables that member to enjoy the freedom and privilege of living in a community governed by mutual trust and respect.

Student Government Association

S.G.A. is a means for student self-government. It is organized around major concerns of campus life and provides students experience in planning and administering cultural, social, recreational and religious activities. Students also serve as voting members of faculty standing committees.

Religious Life

Queens faculty and administration have made a religious commitment, which provides a climate and opportunity for growth and nourishment of lasting religious values. Students are given the opportunity to develop their own religious beliefs by voluntarily taking part in the weekly campus chapel services, fellowship, and retreats.

Culural Events

A student Cultural Events Committee plans a speakers series, a film series, and a concert series to be presented throughout the academic year. Also contributing to the cultural program are events such as dramatic productions, art exhibits, and recitals.

Social Activities

The Social Activities Committee sponsors ski trips, football weekends to area universities, dances, and recreational activities.

The Web is a comfortable lodge on campus, complete with kitchen, fireplace, T.V., and stereo. This is an ideal facility for small parties and dates.

The Hollow has a coffee house atmosphere, where folk singers entertain in the evenings.

Four national social sororities—Alpha Delta Pi, Chi Omega, Kappa Delta, and Phi Mu—provide additional activities for their members.

Athletics

Queens offers intercollegiate athletic competition in two sports: volleyball in the fall; tennis in the spring. The college holds an active membership in North Carolina Association of Inter collegiate Athletics for Women (NCAIAW) and an associate membership in the national organization, AIAW. The volleyball team and the tennis team play full schedules against North Carolina and South Carolina schools. Athletes must fulfill NCAIAW and Queens eligibility requirements.

Recreation and Intramurals

Queens offers a varied program in recreation offering every student an opportunity to take part in a wide range of sports.

Ovens Gymnasium houses a large gym, a dance studio, and a swimming pool. In addition there are five tennis courts, three of which are lighted. The physical education department makes the facilities available to students on a regular basis through Rec Nights and Free Swims. Intramural teams compete against each other in swimming, volleyball, softball, table tennis, tennis, and basketball—with an occasional challenge from a faculty team.

Publications

Queens College has three periodicals published by the students. The Coronet, the Queens College yearbook, is published annually, and provides a pictorial and literary record of the year's events and activities. The Queens Current, the student newspaper on campus, is published regularly to keep the college informed of campus events and news, and to serve as a forum for an exchange of ideas among students, faculty, and administrators. The Signet, the college literary magazine, is published once a year, and illustrates the creative writing and visual artistry talents of the Queens community and the public.

Honoraries, Honors and Awards

Several organizations have been established at Queens to recognize high achievement both in scholarship and in campus leadership.

Delta Omicron is an international music fraternity for women who attain high scholarship in music and possess the potential for superior musicianship.

Marshals are students who rank first and second in academic standing in the senior, junior, and sophomore classes and who serve as ushers at official college events which require academic processions.

Orb and Sceptre is a senior organization which recognizes those students who have shown outstanding leadership, scholarship, and service to the college community.

The Zetetic Society is an organization composed of faculty and students. Its purpose is to recognize high scholastic attainment for seniors and juniors and to encourage independent research.

Sigma Upsilon is a fraternity for writers. Members are selected from the junior and senior classes; the basis of selection is literary ability, interest, and active participation in writing.

Valkyrie is an organization of students from the sophomore class who have been selected because of outstanding leadership, citizenship, and scholarship exhibited during the freshman year.

Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges recognizes note-worthy student leaders on campuses throughout the country and registers them in a national collegiate publication. The students are selected on the basis of scholarship, leadership, citizenship, and cooperation in educational and extra-curricular activities, and the promise of future contribtuions to those areas.

In addition to membership in campus honoraries, there is a variety of honors and awards. Some of these are: the scholastic honors—the Dean's List and graduating with honors; the Algernon Sydney Sullivan Award for outstanding service; the Charlotte Panhellenic Awards to an outstanding freshman sophomore, junior and senior; creative writing awards; and several athletic awards.

Student Services

Housing

Queens views on-campus living as an integral part of the educational experience. Students who are candidates for an undergraduate degree will live in residence unless: (1) they are residing with their parents or guardian; (2) they are married; (3) they have been granted special permission for other residence by the Dean of Students.

There are four residence halls on campus, each with its own distinctive style. They range in size from housing 36 to 140 students and in style from traditional double rooms to suites.

All freshmen are assigned rooms and roommates by the Dean of Students. Other students choose their rooms in an order determined by their non-refundable reservation fee and by lot.

The College insurance program is designed to provide protection for college property and does not include the property of students or others. It is suggested that students and their parents should review their insurance to be sure that coverage is extended to include personal effects while at college.

Health Services

The Irwin McKay Infirmary is staffed and equipped to provide outpatient and infirmary care. The ten bed infirmary is staffed by nurses 24 hours a day Monday-Friday, Terms I, II and January, except during vacations. The college physician holds office hours in the infirmary twice a week without charge.

All degree candidates enrolled in the college are entitled to health services during the terms in which they are enrolled. Students must complete and submit a medical history and physical examination form to the Dean of Students prior to entrance. This history initiates the student's medical file and facilitates preventive medicine and emergency care.

A voluntary health insurance plan is available through the college. Information regarding this plan will be sent to each student.

The Women's Career Center

The Women's Career Center offers life/career counseling to Queens students and alumnae. Many women enter college unsure of their career talents and interests and the availability of jobs in particular fields. Through individual and group counseling, occupational testing, and topical seminars, the Women's Career Center staff assists students in assessing their values, abilities and interests. Students are encouraged to learn decision-making skills and to set goals, moving them toward rewarding and satisfying futures. The staff is comprised of professional counselors with expertise in the counseling of college women.

A vital part of the Women's Career Center is the Career Resource Center containing up-to-date career information, as well as information on graduate schools, scholarships, opportunities in business, government and education, and summer and part-time employment.

The Placement Office in the Women's Career Center is particularly interested in helping seniors plan an effective job campaign and in finding rewarding job opportunities. Each senior is encouraged to complete a permanent file containing a resume and letters of recommendation. Upon request, a copy of the file is sent to graduate schools and prospective employers. A staff member visits prospective employers for information on possible job openings and encourages representatives from schools and businesses to interview on campus. Throughout the academic year, seminars are held for seniors on resume preparation, interviewing and planning the job search.

Students are encouraged to take advantage of the services of the Women's Career Center from the freshman year through the senior year.

New Dimensions Program

New Dimensions is a program of support services designed specifically for the student who is 24 years of age and older. Designed to ease the transition between lifestyles, New Dimensions provides academic and career counseling, orientations each term, mini-seminars featuring topics of interest to the adult woman, child care, financial aid possibilities, peer counseling, alumnae career resource persons, and personal development opportunities. New Dimensions is housed in the Women's Career Center in Jernigan Hall with office hours 8:30 to 5:00 weekdays.

Admissions/ Costs/ Financial Aid

Admissions

Queens College admits students regardless of race, color, national and ethnic origin, or handicap to all rights, privileges, programs and activities generally accorded or made available to students at the college. It does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, national or ethnic origin, or handicap in administration of its educational policies, admissions policies, scholarship and loan programs, and athletic and other college administered programs.

For Freshmen

Students applying to Queens should follow a college preparatory program in high school. Four years of English, two years of mathematics, two years of a foreign language, two years of social science, and one year of a laboratory science are considered basic preparation.

In evaluating an application, the office of admissions considers the applicant's high school record, especially the quality and amount of college preparatory work; recommendations from the secondary school; College Entrance Examination Board test scores (SAT) or The American College Testing Program (ACT); and the student's own stated objectives. A personal visit to campus is the best way for a student to discover Queens. A campus interview is strongly recommended.

All applicants who have taken Spanish or French in secondary school and who wish to continue study in that particular language at Queens should take a language achievement test for purposes of placement. Students who do not take the CEEB language achievement tests may take a language placement test after enrollment at the College. SAT, ACT and Achievement applications and information about testing dates may be obtained from secondary school counselors or from CEEB, Box 592, Princeton, N.J., 08540. Queens' CEEB code number is 5560. ACT applications and information about testing dates may also be obtained from secondary school counselors or from ACT Records, P.O. Box 451, Iowa City, Iowa 52240. Queens College ACT code number is 3148

For Transfers

Queens welcomes transfer students from other colleges and universities Applicants must request their own transcripts from each institution attended to be forwarded to the Office of Admissions. For courses completed at other institutions, credit usually will be transferred if the grade earned is C or better. Credits over 10 years old must be submitted for approval to the Student Qualifications Committee following the successful completion of six credit hours at Queens. Courses transferred from two-year institutions are classified as either 100- or 200-level courses

For Readmissions

A degree candidate who has withdrawn in good standing, and who wishes to return to Queens may apply for readmission by submitting an application. Transcripts of all work attempted at other institutions must be sent to the Office of Admissions.

For Special Students

Students who are not candidates for degrees but who wish to enroll for credit may apply as special students. Generally, special students who do not hold a bachelor's degree are limited to a cumulative total of 15 credit hours. Anyone holding a bachelor's degree is allowed the privilege of unlimited credit. The availability of space may limit enrollment in some courses. Special students must maintain a C average to continue their enrollment.

Persons interested in teacher certification who have already earned a bachelor's degree are admitted as special students. They should consult with the director of admissions regarding admission and are expected to complete twelve credits successfully at Queens before undertaking student teaching.

For Summer School

Students interested in attending summer school at Queens must apply as special students and should contact the Dean of the College for further information.

For Advanced Standing

Students who have completed college level work in their secondary schools should take the appropriate Advanced Placement (AP) test administered by the CEEB. Queens grants advanced placement and course credit automatically if the student scores either four or five on such tests. Advanced placement is also granted for a score of three, but decisions on the amount of credit to be awarded are made by the Dean of the College in consultation with the department in which credit is granted. Advanced placement in English is given for literature courses only.

Advanced placement in biology, chemistry, foreign language and music is determined also by acceptable achievement on examinations taken at Queens at the beginning of the fall term.

Students with an SAT verbal score of 600 or above are exempt from the Area I distributed requirement in English. Students seeking advanced placement, credit or exemption are responsible for submitting a written request to the dean before their first term registration.

Queens also awards credit and advanced placement to students who score satisfactorily on approved subject level tests of the College Level Examination Program (CLEP). Credit will not be granted if it duplicates credit already earned. Neither grades nor quality points will be awarded, nor may CLEP credits satisfy the final 30 hours required for graduation from Queens. A recording fee of $10 for the first course and $5 for each additional course accepted will be charged. Students who wish further information about CLEP should write to the Dean of the College.

For Accelerated Admissions

Students with superior records are encouraged to apply for admission during their junior year in high school. They must submit transcripts, recommendations, and SAT scores or ACT scores and should schedule a conference with an admissions counselor. In some states local school authorities will grant a high school diploma after a year of college work: any such agreement is the responsibility of the student and the local authorities. A student may also obtain a high school equivalency certificate by examination.

For the student who has made plans for graduate school or professional study, accelerated admissions is one way of shortening the time before she can begin her career.

For Dual Enrollment

Any student who is a junior or senior in a Charlotte-Mecklenburg area secondary school may enroll for courses at Queens during any term when recommended by the secondary school. Credit earned under the dual enrollment program may be used at Queens or another institution as college credit when the student enrolls as a degree candidate.

For Campus Visits

Prospective students and their families are urged to visit Queens. They are welcome at any time but will find visits more interesting if scheduled when the college is in session. The admissions office is open from 8:30 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. on weekdays throughout the year and until noon on Saturdays by appointment.

Each year a series of special overnight campus visitations is scheduled for prospective students. Interested students should write to the office of admissions for details of these programs.

In Summary

While there are no deadlines for applications, prospective freshmen should apply for admission early in the senior year of high school. Application forms should be obtained from the office of admissions and should be returned with a non-refundable $15 application fee. Special students submit a $5 non-refundable application fee. Upon receipt of the completed application, the student should request her transcripts and recommendations from the secondary school to be sent to the admissions office. Transfer students must request transcripts from each college attended.

The office of admissions will act on an application as soon as all information has been received.

Accepted students are requested to mail a deposit of $150.00 to accept the Queens offer of admission within 30 days of notification. The $150.00 deposit is refundable until May 1.

Costs

While the Board of Trustees reserves the right to adjust the fee schedules at Queens at any time, the following basic fees have been established for 1978-79.

(Comprehensive fees cover the three terms in the academic year.)

Resident Student Comprehensive Fee for 1978-79 $3,900.00

Includes tuition, infirmary, student activity fee and other services, and double room dormitory accommodations for regular full-time students registered for twelve or more credit hours each in Terms I and II, and for three hours in January term.

Commuting Student Comprehensive Fee for 1978-79 $3,000.00

Includes tuition, infirmary, student activity fee and other services for regular full-time commuting students registered for twelve or more hours in Terms I and II, and for three hours in January Term.

Note: For information concerning the $300 Legislative Tuition Grant, North Carolina students should refer to North Carolina Programs under Financial Aid.

Queens offers three meal plans for the convenience of its students. Resident students are required without exception to take one of the meal plans offered. The costs of the meal plans are:

	Terms I and II Annual Rate
Plan I (21 meals per week)	$800.00
Plan II (15 meals per week)	$750.00
Plan III (10 meals per week)	$720.00
	January Term
Plan I (21 meals per week)	$100.00

Meal plans II and III include any 15 or 10 of the 21 meals offered during the week. At registration each term, resident students will select and pay for the meal plan they prefer since payment for meals are not included in the deferred payment schedule. Meal tickets will be issued. One half of the annual meal plan is payable August 15, 1978, and one half on January 1, 1979. January Term meal plan is payable in full on January 1, 1979. The 21 meal plan is the only plan offered in January. The choice of meal plans may be changed only at the beginning of a term.

Queens Conservatory Music Fees

A separate fee schedule for the (non-college) conservatory applied music program may be obtained from the Department of Music.

Other Expenses

The cost of books and supplies varies with courses taken, but the average expense is $100 per year.

Non-college expenses such as travel, clothing, entertainment, and incidentals vary according to individual student needs. Students joining sororities will have additional costs for initiation, dues, and special assessments.

Laundry is not included in the general fee.

In matters of health care the student is responsible for paying any fees for special visits, consultations, special medicines, and hospitalizations.

Regulations Regarding Payments

Upon signing the application for admission, the parent or guardian, or the applicant if not a dependent, accepts as binding and contractual all fees and regulations set forth in the catalogue.

Fees for Attending One Term

Students registering for only Term I or II are charged fees for that term only. January Term fees are included in the fees for Term I or Term II.

General Information Concerning Fees

A student is not permitted to attend classes until satisfactory arrangements have been made to meet all financial obligations. Diplomas, certificates, grades, and transcripts are granted only when the student's accounts have been paid in full. Where a note is offered, it is accepted with the understanding that the account is not considered settled until the note is paid.

No discount or scholarship award may be applied against the $150 initial deposit.

Students who withdraw from the college during the academic year on their own initiative will be charged for the full term during which they withdraw. Students suspended by the college for other than academic reasons are responsible for paying fees for the full term. Students who withdraw from college during the academic year as a result of illness will have their fees prorated as of the date of withdrawal provided their physicians recommend withdrawal.

Room charges are prorated only in the case of withdrawal as outlined above. Students moving off campus during a term will be responsible for the room charge for the full term.

Meal charges will be prorated if a written request is submitted to the Business Office.

Payment Schedule

The following payment schedule is applicable for 1978-79. The reservation deposit is applied to the comprehensive fee.

The January meal charge is applicable only to those students enrolled for the January term.*

The College will offer only the 21 meal plan during January.

Room Damage Deposits

New Resident students are required to make a $50 Room Damage Deposit in addition to the $150 tuition deposit. This deposit will be refunded with interest, less the cost of any damages, after the student is no longer a resident.

Deferred Payments

As a convenience to parents, Queens has arranged with THE TUITION PLAN, INC. Concord, New Hampshire and INSURED TUITION PLAN, Boston, Massachusetts, to handle requests for deferred payments through their programs. Information on the above plans may be obtained from the BUSINESS OFFICE.

QUEENS COLLEGE offers a deferred payment plan whereby the payments due on August 15 may be made in four installments payable on the 15th of July, August, September and October; and the payments due on January 1 may be made in four installments payable on the 15th of December, January February and March.

There is an additional charge of $25 per year for the QUEENS COLLEGE deferred payment plan and a $5 payment fee for each late payment. Date of payment will be determined by date of postmark or date of receipt if delivered in person.

Applications for the QUEENS COLLEGE deferred payment plan must be in writing, and must be received by the BUSINESS OFFICE with the $25 processing fee by June 15, 1978.

Credits For Student Aid

Credits for Student Aid and/or the North Carolina Legislative Tuition Grants are divided equally between the fall and spring terms. Students who desire to apply their work study earnings to their account may make arrangements with the Business Office.

Questions concerning student aid should be directed to the DIRECTOR OF STUDENT AID.

Student Health Insurance

All students are included in the group health and accident insurance plan except those who specifically request in writing to be excluded. You may request an exemption by signing the exemption request form contained in the folder describing the health and accident insurance program.

All requests for exemption must be filed with the Business Office by August 25, 1978.

Financial Aid

Queens realizes that as a private institution which places quality of the educational experience above other considerations, the cost of attending Queens becomes a matter of overriding importance for many families. Applicants should not hesitate to apply for financial assistance. Queens College has in the past been able to meet the demonstrated need with a financial aid package and welcomes the opportunity to work with students and their parents. Although most awards are based on financial need, some aid is awarded without regard to need. These awards are based on the academic and leadership merits of applicants and are awarded to students whether or not they have demonstrated need.

Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grants (SEOG) are available on an annual basis to undergraduate students with exceptional need. These grants range from $200 to $1,500 and may be renewed from year to year but may not exceed $4,000 during four years. Grants in any one year may not exceed half of the student's total assistance program.

The College Work Study (CWS) program assists qualified students to meet educational expenses through employment on campus during the academic year at a specified hourly rate. Eligibility for this program depends upon financial need and evidence of academic or creative promise.

The National Direct Student Loan (NDSL) program permits students with established need to borrow as much as $2,500 during their freshman and sophomore years, and up to a total of $5,000 during their undergraduate programs. These loans bear a three percent annual interest rate during repayment. Repayment begins nine months after the borrower ceases to be at least a half-time student and may extend over a period of 10 years. If the borrower enters certain public-service occupations, the loan may be forgiven.

The amount of funds available to Queens students under SEOG, CWS, and NDSL programs is determined by allocations made to the college each year by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare which are dependent upon the amount of funding students are eligible for under the guidelines of these programs.

The Guaranteed Loan program permits students upon recommendation of the college, to borrow from a bank or other financial institution—with a federal government guarantee of repayment—as much as $2,500 a year with a $7,500 maximum for undergraduates. Terms for these loans and of guaranteed interest arrangements may be obtained from participating banks or agencies in the state where the student resides. The College will advise the student in this process.

North Carolina Programs

The North Carolina Scholarship Program is provided to Queens College by an act of the North Carolina General Assembly. Scholarships are available to full-time undergraduate students who are legal residents of North Carolina. This fund assists qualified students who demonstrate need.

North Carolina Legislative Tuition Grants in the amount of $300 per academic year are available to North Carolina residents enrolled for twelve credit hours per term.

North Carolina offers one grant and two loan programs through College Foundation, Inc. of Raleigh, North Carolina.

The North Carolina Student Incentive Grant Program (NCSIG) provides grants up to $1,500 per academic year for eligible students who are North Carolina residents. Recipients must be full time students and demonstrate substantial financial need. The NCSIG Program will use the analysis of the College Scholarship Service (the Financial Aid Form) to determine need, and this document should be filed before March 31. Applicants who appear to be eligible will be asked to submit a supplemental form to the College Foundation, which makes all NCSIG awards.

The North Carolina Insured Student Loan Program permits state residents enrolled as full-time students to borrow through the College Foundation, Inc., on the basis of a needs analysis, as much as $2,500 per academic year for an aggregate of $15,000 (including undergraduate and graduate study) at seven percent annual interest. Loans are insured and under certain conditions the Office of Education pays the interest on these loans during the in-school and grace periods.

The Basic Educational Opportunity Grant Program (BEOG) makes funds available to eligible students for grants up to $1,600 per academic year. Beginning in 1978-79 a student may use the College Scholarship Service Financial Aid Form (FA) to apply for a Basic Grant. Within 6 weeks of submitting the form, the student will receive a Student Eligibility Report notifying her as to whether she is eligible. She must then submit the notification to Queens' Director of Student Aid who, within the guidelines of the BEOG Program, will determine the amount of grant funds for which the student is eligible.

Students are expected to be enrolled full time, and students enrolled less than one-half time are not eligible for student financial aid.*

The James E. and Mary Z. Bryan Foundation Student Loan Plan permits North Carolinians enrolled in full-time undergraduate programs to borrow, through College Foundations, Inc., as much as $1,500 per school year for a four-year total of $7,500. The interest rate is one percent annually during the in-school and grace periods and six percent annually during the repayment period. Students may apply for a Bryan Foundation Loan without submitting a parents' confidential statement. Application forms may be obtained from the Queens' director of financial aid.

College Programs

Departmental Scholarships are available to a limited number of freshmen and upperclassmen with outstanding achievement in specialized areas. These scholarships are currently available in the departments of biology, chemistry, and music.

Trustee Leadership Awards are available annually to new students who have exhibited leadership in high school activities and who show potential for further developing those leadership qualities at Queens. The amount of these awards may vary but each is renewable.

Trustee Merit Scholarships are awarded annually to new students who have exhibited outstanding records in scholarship and leadership. The amount of these awards may vary and each is renewable.

Carol G. Belk Scholarship Awards are available annually to outstanding new students. Recipients are chosen on the basis of their leadership records in school and community, academic ability, and potential for continuing leadership at Queens. The amount of these awards may vary, but each is renewable.

Dana Scholarships are awarded annually to students in each of the sophomore, junior, and senior classes. The student must maintain outstanding records for scholarship and leadership. The scholars receive a $200 honorarium. The financial need of a Dana scholar is always met. Recipients are chosen by the faculty Honors Committee.

National Merit Scholarships are offered each year to National Merit finalists who desire to attend Queens.

Tuition Remission

Tuition remission is available to any full-time student who is the dependent of an active minister. Dependents of active ministers of the Presbyterian Church, U.S., Synods of North Carolina and the Southeast, will receive a $600 tuition remission. Dependents of active ministers in all other synods of the Presbyterian Church, U.S. will receive a $400 tuition remission. Dependents of active ministers of all other faiths will receive a tuition remission of $200.

To Apply

To apply for financial assistance students must have been admitted to Queens as degree candidates and must complete and submit two application forms:

1. The Queens College Application for Financial Aid to be submitted to the Director of Student Aid, Queens College, Charlotte, North Carolina 28274.

2. The Financial Aid Form (FAF) to be submitted to the College Scholarship Service, Box 2700, Princeton, New Jersey 08540. The student should list Queens College, Charlotte, N. C., CSS code 5560, as the institution to receive the report. (NCSIG applicants should also list N. C. Student Incentive Grant Programs, CSS code 0742).

All forms are available from Queens' Office of Student Aid.

The Financial Aid Form may also be obtained from high school guidance counselors.

Applications for financial aid for 1979-80 should be submitted by entering students as soon as possible during the senior year. Notification of action by the college will be sent after Queens receives an evaluation of the applicant's need from the College Scholarship Service.

Financial Aid Policies

Most financial aid programs are renewable throughout undergraduate years if the recipient demonstrates satisfactory progress toward graduation, but renewal of aid is not automatic. Rising sophomores, juniors, and seniors must reapply to the financial aid office for assistance each year. The amount offered in grants, loans, and work-study funds also may vary from year to year.

Financial aid recipients who withdraw during the school year will have their aid prorated according to the regulations governing withdrawal.

Students receiving aid under certain programs are expected to assume weekly work assignments at the college. Assignments are determined by the amount of aid received and the student's particular interests and skills.

Queens reserves the right to review and modify an offer of financial aid should the recipient receive aid from other sources after Queens' program has been offered.

The Academic Program

Degree Requirements

Degree Programs

Queens College offers five degree programs: the Bachelor of Arts, the Bachelor of Fine Arts, the Bachelor of Science, the Bachelor of Music and the Bachelor of General Studies. Majors within the Bachelor of Arts include American studies, art, biochemistry, biology, business, business/foreign language, early childhood education, English, European studies, French, history, Latin-American studies, mathematics, music, philosophy, political science, public administration, psychology, religious education, sociology, and Spanish.

The Bachelor of Fine Arts degree is offered through the Division of Fine Arts for majors in art.

Majors within the Bachelor of Science include biochemistry, biology, medical technology, nuclear medical technology, nursing, and radiologic technology.

The Bachelor of Music degree offers majors in applied music (piano, voice, organ, strings, or other instruments), in music education, music therapy, piano pedagogy, and sacred music.

The Bachelor of General Studies is a flexible program in which the student selects an area of emphasis and a sequence of elective courses to fit her own particular needs and circumstances. The area of emphasis may or may not be one of the specific majors offered in the other degree programs.

Degree Requirements

Required for a degree is a minimum of 120 credit hours in academic courses with a cumulative quality point average of 2,000 in all work taken at Queens College and in all work in the chosen field of concentration. Also required is a minimum of two non-academic credit hours of physical education and two Inter-Term (January Term) units of credit. At least 36 credit hours must be in courses of 300 level or higher. Every degree candidate must complete at least 60 hours of her academic program at Queens College and must spend her last year at Queens College or in a Queens approved program.

Though the college makes every effort to counsel the student in planning a program and selecting courses of study, the student is finally responsible for fulfilling all requirements for a degree.

Educational Program

The educational program leading to a degree is composed of five interrelated parts: a major program; a program of distributed requirements; a program of elective hours which may include the choice of one or two minor programs; a program of physical education; and a January-Term program.

Major Program

The purpose of a major is twofold: to give the student the opportunity to go far enough into a field to achieve some mastery of it; and to enable her to acquire knowledge, skills, and attitudes which may help make her effective in her vocation. Working with her advisor, the student will plan her major in one of three categories: departmental, interdepartmental, or self-structured.

The self-structured major is planned by the student in consultation with a major advisor and an advisory committee of two other faculty members from the principal disciplines which constitute the student's fields of interest. If a student is seeking a self-structured major in intermediate education, she will work closely with an advisor in her specialty area as well as with one in the education department. The individually structured major might include courses in two or more departments, work taken at other colleges, internships off campus, and credit earned through the College Level Examination Program. It offers the student an opportunity to tailor an academic program to meet particular intellectual interests and vocational objectives. The student is expected to show independence and responsibility in planning such a major program.

The self-structured major shall consist of a minimum of 30 hours in the major with a minimum of 12 hours at the 300-400 level in the one primary department of the major. Self-structured major programs must include Interdisciplinary Senior Thesis 450, unless the major is in intermediate education. Self-structured majors in intermediate education must include at least 12 hours in 300-400 level courses in at least one academic area other than education.

Minor Program

If a student chooses, she may include one or two minors in her undergraduate program. The minor shall consist of a minimum of 16 hours in a department other than her major. The minor may be taken in any program so designated in the catalogue. Minor programs must be approved by the faculty advisor and the department concerned.

Bachelor of Arts

A major for the Bachelor of Arts degree shall consist of no fewer than 30 credit hours. No more than 40 hours in the major department shall be required for a major. A student may, however, at her own initiative take more than 40 hours in her major department. Specific requirements in areas of the major are stated in each department heading in the course descriptions.

Bachelor of Fine Arts

The Bachelor of Fine Arts degree with a major in art requires 135 credit hours in academic courses. A total of 72 credit hours in studio courses and 15 hours in art history is required.

Bachelor of Science

A major for the Bachelor of Science degree in the areas of biology or biological chemistry shall consist of no fewer than 32 credit hours. Language proficiency of the intermediate level is also required for the Bachelor of Science degree in these areas. Specific requirements for each of the major programs are stated in the department heading in the course descriptions. Credits earned at non-academic institutions may be used toward B.S. degrees with majors in allied health areas only. All nursing and radiologic technology majors must complete the last 30 hours of credit at Queens College. An Associate of Science in nuclear medical technology is available. Information concerning the program is available from the Division of Mathematics and Natural Sciences.

Major in Medical Technology

A major in medical technology will be granted upon successful completion of 90 credit hours of approved college work and certification in medical laboratory technology from any hospital accredited by the American Society of Clinical Pathology and approved by the college. In order to enter an A.S.C.P. approved school, minimum requirements must be met: at least 90 credit hours of college work giving a comprehensive general education and including English, social sciences, art, and humanities. In additon the minimum science and mathematics requirements are: 16 credit hours of chemistry, 16 credit hours of biology, and three credit hours of mathematics. All Queens College degree requirements must be met. A minimum of 36 hours in courses numbered 300 and above is required. Thirty credit hours are assigned to courses carried in the school of medical technology; these constitute the major. All of these 30 credit hours shall be considered equivalent to 300-400 level courses.

Major in Radiologic Technology

A major in radiologic technology will be granted upon successful completion of 90 credit hours of approved college work and certification in radiologic technology from any hospital school accredited by the American Registry of Radiologic Technologists and approved by the college.

All Queens College degree requirements must be met. A minimum of 36 hours in courses numbered 300 and above is required. Thirty credit hours are assigned to professional courses carried in the school of radiologic technology; these constitute the major. All of these 30 credit hours shall be considered equivalent to 300-400 level courses. A student may not be admitted to candidacy for this degree until certfied by the American Registry of Radiologic Technologists.

Bachelor of Music

In the Bachelor of Music program, the major consists of no less than 73 hours in music under the applied music major; no less than 70 hours in music under the piano pedagogy major; under the music education major at least 50 credit hours are in music courses with no less than 14 credit hours of work in an applied major performance area and four credit hours of work in an applied minor performance area. Music therapy requires no less than 60 hours in music and 12 hours in music therapy courses. Sacred music requires from 68 to 78 hours in music.

Bachelor of General Studies

The Bachelor of General Studies is a degree for the adult student, age 24 and older. It is a flexible program, designed to allow a student to structure a course of study to fit her own particular needs and circumstances. The degree requires 120 credit hours, with at least 36 on the 300 or 400 level, and includes 30 hours in an area of emphasis and a three hour Introduction to General Studies Seminar.

The Bachelor of General Studies degree does not require physical education credit or the Inter-Term units of credit.

The individual emphasis is designed to meet the student's personal educational objectives. Upon entering the program, the student will, with her advisor's guidance, plan the appropriate course of study.

The area of emphasis may or may not be one of the specific majors offered in other degree programs. The elective hours chosen in consultation with the student's advisor will be determined by the individual emphasis. The residence requirements remain the same as for any other degree program.

A central feature of the Bachelor of General Studies program is the close interaction of the student with an advisor who helps her plan a program of study as well as evaluate her progress from time to time.

The Bachelor of General Studies is a degree program which offers excellent career preparation and options for the older adult wishing to obtain a college degree. Specific information on this degree is available from the Admissions Office.

Pre-Professional Programs

In combination with individual major programs available at Queens, students may elect to structure a program of study which leads to pre-professional preparation in various fields. For instance, courses of study are available to students wishing to pursue professions in the area of dentistry, law, medicine, music therapy, nursing, physical therapy, social work, and teaching.

Medicine, Dentistry, and Physical Therapy

It is recognized by leading medical educators that a genuine liberal arts curriculum provides the most suitable undergraduate premedical, predental, prephysical therapy, and pre-veterinary medicine background. Completion of the courses required of all students at Queens College provides desired breadth of training and intellectual skills.

It may be helpful for these students to acquaint themselves with the specific requirements for the schools to which they expect to apply for admission.

Full information concerning any aspect of these programs may be obtained from the Division of Mathematics and Natural Sciences and the Women's Career Center.

Law

Queens College affords students an opportunity to develop a pre-law course of study, although it does not offer a pre-law major. Law schools do not require nor recommend specific courses or majors. They do recommend, however, that students examine a variety of subjects or ideas that would lead to an understanding of the broad political, economic, social, and cultural forces which affect our body of laws and the society which it orders. Law schools also recommended that students work toward developing their skills of analysis and communication. While the majority of students admitted to law schools have selected political science, history, English, or economics as undergraduate majors, virtually all undergraduate majors have been represented.

Admission requirement for law school generally include the Law School Admission Test. Applications for this test are available in the registrar's office, and students should plan to take the exam early in their senior year. Scores from this test, undergraduate quality point average, and other factors are parts of the law school admissions process. Students should check to see what information is required by the law school or schools that interest them.

For further details or counseling, students should contact the Division of Business and Social Sciences and the Women's Career Center.

Music Therapy

Under the Bachelor of Music degree, the music department has devised a 4½ year major in the field of music therapy. A special bulletin is available which contains all pertinent information about this new program for which accreditation has been granted by the National Association for Music Therapy, Inc. Music therapy prepares a student for work with children and adults who require special services because of behavioral, learning or physical disorders. For further details, please contact the chairman of the Division of Fine Arts.

Nursing Programs

Queens offers three programs to students interested in nursing. A cooperative program with the Presbyterian Hospital School Nursing enables students to take courses at Queens while working to become a Registered Nurse through the course of study provided by the hospital. A second program exists for Registered Nurses who would like to complete requirements for the B.S. degree with a major in nursing. As a third possibility, students may elect a pre-nursing curriculum upon enrolling at Queens.

Cooperative Program With Presbyterian Hospital School of Nursing

The Presbyterian Hospital School of Nursing in Charlotte and Queens College have a cooperative arrangement under which the college provides basic academic instruction to students enrolled in the hospital's three-year Diploma Program for Nurses. Students in this program live at the hospital nursing school and take courses for academic credit at Queens during their first year. College credit hours earned at Queens in this program are transferable. Participants in this program are eligible to become Registered Nurses when they have been graduated from the Presbyterian Hospital School of Nursing and upon satisfactory completion of the state board examination. Interested applicants should write the Director, School of Nursing, Presbyterian Hospital School of Nursing, P.O. Box 10157, Charlotte, North Carolina 28237.

Two-Year Pre-Nursing Curriculum

A student wishing to begin a course of study for becoming a Registered Nurse or for receiving a baccalaureate degree in nursing through the liberal arts program offered at Queens may enroll in the two-year pre-nursing curriculum. This program will entail transfer to a college or university of the student's choice after completion of the two-year Queens program. Under this program students interested in nursing but uncertain about their commitment or ability in the field can begin productive college work before making a final decision about professional training.

The flexible two-year curriculum includes courses required at the particular school or university to which the student will transfer. Queens maintains a file of college and university catalogues which lists the requirements of various nursing programs. Normally the pre-nursing student develops a freshman and sophomore schedule from the following courses:

Natural Sciences and Mathematics: Biology 103, 206, 111, 112, 120; Chemistry 101, 102, 303; Mathematics 105 or 112.

Social Sciences: Psychology (two courses) 201, 303, 304, 309, 319; Sociology (two courses) 203, 204, 302, 308, 316, 318.

Humanities: English 101 or 105; literature, history, religion.

Students interested in this pre-nursing program should submit a regular admissions application to Queens' director of admissions, and should anticipate transferring after their sophomore year to the college or university from which they wish to graduate.

Bachelor of Science Degree with a Major in Nursing

Queens also offers a program leading to a Bachelor of Science degree with a major in Nursing for students who have already received professional education as Registered Nurses. This program is designed to meet the needs of Registered Nurses who desire further education and to satisfy the demand of hospital administrators who employ nurses with baccalaureate degrees.

As a prerequisite for admission to this program the applicant must be a Registered Nurse from an accredited school of nursing, such as the Presbyterian Hospital School of Nursing in Charlotte or be a Registered Nurse from an accredited junior or community college nursing program.

A major in nursing will be granted to Registered Nurses upon completion of 60 credit hours of approved college work. Degree candidates must have been graduated from an accredited Diploma School of Nursing or from an Associate Degree in Nursing program. Normally 60 credit hours are assigned to courses carried in a school of nursing; these constitute a major. Of these 60 hours, 36 shall be considered equivalent to 300-400 level courses. All Queens College academic requirements for a degree must be met.

As a part of the nursing major requirements, each candidate must complete one course in mathematics, one in history, one in psychology, and one in sociology. (These requirements may overlap the Distributed Requirements.) Major requirements also include Biology 103, any approved elective at the 300-400 level in biology, and Chemistry 405.

Graduation requirements for Queens' Bachelor of Science degree with a major in nursing are a minimum of 120 credit hours in academic and professional courses with a cumulative quality point average of 2.000 in all work at Queens and the professional school and two non-academic credit hours in physical education. The candidate must complete at least 60 credit hours of academic work at Queens and must spend the last year of her academic program at Queens prior to the conferring of the degree.

Students interested in this program should submit an application to Queens' Director of Admissions and include a transcript of all earned post-secondary credits so that the transfer credits applicable to the program may be determined as well as the courses needed to complete degree requirements.

Social Work

A sequence of courses designed to give fundamental preparation to students wishing to enter social work or graduate study in this field is offered by the sociology department. Students may combine studies in the area of social work with any of the majors regularly offered by the college.

Additional information may be obtained from the Division of Business and Social Sciences and the Women's Career Center.

Teacher Education

A teaching certificate, either at the early childhood, intermediate, or secondary level, may be secured with the Bachelor of Arts or Bachelor of Science degree. Teaching certification also is possible under the Bachelor of Music program. The Bachelor of Music degree in music education is described on page 57. Details of the major in early childhood education and of teacher certification programs at the intermediate and secondary levels are given on page 44 and in the departmental bulletins about teacher education. These bulletins are available in the offices of the registrar and of the education department.

For further information, students may consult the chairman of the Division of Education and Psychology.

(NOTE: Graduate students seeking teacher renewal credit or teacher certification may also enroll in courses at Queens. For details, interested students should consult the dean of the college.)

Distributed Requirements

The distributed requirements, totaling at least 33 hours, assist the student in developing a program of study which will be widely representative of liberal arts studies. With one exception (Area I) these courses may be taken at any time during the student's years of attendance.

Students may take either course in Area I. Courses which meet distributed requirements in Areas II-VI are designated in each department heading in the course descriptions. Students may elect any two of the specified courses in Areas II-VI, and are advised to investigate as many disciplines as possible within the framework of the distributed requirements and through elective courses.

Elective Hours

In consultation with faculty advisors, students choose elective hours, in addition to distributed and major area requirements, to complete the hours required for graduation. Electives afford an opportunity to develop one or two minor programs, to study in fields which directly support the major program, and to gain knowledge in additional areas.

Physical Education

All candidates for degrees, with the exception of those working towards the Bachelor of General Studies degrees, must complete two non-academic credit hours in physical education with a grade of P (passing).

One hour is given for each term of successful completion of a physical education course. These physical education hours must be earned

Area		Number of Courses (3 Credit hours or more)
I.	Research Writing Skills (English 101), Communications in the Humanities (English 105) (taken in freshman year unless exempt)	1
II.	French, Spanish or Mathematics	2
II.	History, Philosophy, Religion	2
V.	Biology, Chemistry, Physics, Interdisciplinary Science I and II	2
V.	Economics, Political Science, Psychology, Sociology	2
VI.	Art, Literature, Music	2

by the end of the sophomore year. No specific course is required.

Students requesting exemption from physical education activities for medical reasons must make such requests through the college physician and have approval of the Dean of Students. Chronic conditions which would warrant exemption are to be noted on the student's medical examination form for review by the college physician.

Academic Regulations

Registration

Students are expected to register for work at the time specified for each term. Registration after the scheduled time costs an additional $15. No registrations are permitted after the first full week of classes.

A student may change her registration (drop-add) during the first full week of classes only. There will be no charge for course changes made at this time. After the first full week, any course dropped will be considered a withdrawal. No course may be added after the first full week of classes.

Special students registering on a part-time basis who drop courses during the specified drop-add period will be carefully advised to consider entering other appropriate courses. Should it be deemed advisable for the student to drop a course completely, the student will be reimbursed for the tuition amount paid for the dropped course provided the usual drop-add procedures are followed and the action is taken at the recommendation of the student's faculty advisor.

Term Load

The academic year consists of Term I, January Term and Term II. The normal load for all students is from 12 to 16 credit hours in Terms I and II and one Inter-Term course in January. Any full-time student wishing to take more than 16 hours in Terms I and II must obtain permission from the Dean of the College.

Graduation Requirements

A student should take the average load of 30 hours each year if she is to attain the 120 hours required for graduation in the four regular years. In addition, two credits in physical education are required for graduation and certain inter-term requirements in January as follows: A minimum of two inter-term courses is required for the student who completes at Queens College 61-120 credit hours applicable to a degree from Queens College. A minimum of one inter-term course required for a student who completes at Queens College 1-60 academic credit hours applicable to a degree from Queens College. Implementation of these requirements is effective with the entering freshman classes of 1977-78 and 1978-79.

Grades and Quality Points

Graduation requirements are base on both the quantity and quality of the student's work. Queens uses the following system of grades and quality-point value per credit hou

Grade	Interpretation	Quality-Point Value
A	Superior	4.0
B+	Very good	3.5
B	Good	3.0
C+	Very satisfactory	2.5
C	Satisfactory	2.0
D	Poor	1.0
F	Failing	0
P	Pass	(0)
N/R	No Record	(0)
W	Withdrew	No effect on quality points
I	Incomplete	May become A to F upon completion

Grades in physical education are P (passing) or N/R (no record).

A grade of I automatically becomes F if the student fails to make up incomplete work satisfactorily. The grade of I must be removed by the end of the first two weeks of regular classes of the next term for Terms II and January-Term and summer session. A grade of I received during Term I must be removed by the end of the second full week of regular classes of Term II.

Grade reports are sent at the end of each term. Mid-year reports are issued in Terms I and II to indicate special difficulties in course work. Only final term grades are permanently recorded.

A student who has received an F for a course may repeat that course; the F will remain on the student's record in that case, but only the second grade for the course will be figured into the student's cumulative quality point average. NOTE: This is the only case in which a student may register to enroll in the same course twice unless the course is listed "Maybe be repeated for credit."

Pass/No Record

P/NR is a grading philosophy designed to encourage students to explore new areas. The guidelines below do not include those courses, designated as P/NR for all students, such as Introduction to Computer, typing, internships. Courses selected by the student to fulfill the Distributed Requirements may be taken P/NR. P equals a grade of C or above; NR equals a grade of D or less. Courses taken for P/NR are not counted in the calculation of the student's quality point average.

Students may take up to a maximum of two courses a year on a P/NR basis, but may take no more than one course on a P/NR basis in any one term. The student must indicate when she registers for the course that the grading basis will be P/NR. Up to one week after the midpoint of the semester, however, she may change the P/NR basis to a graded basis. Some courses specifically designated (for example, art studio, applied music) may not be taken P/NR. Unless a student obtains permission from the Dean of the College, she may not take a course in the department of her major or in her major program on a P/NR basis. Students planning advanced academic work should be informed that Pass grades may be interpreted as C by graduate institutions and an inordinate number of such grades may be looked upon with disfavor by graduate admissions committees.

Student Rank

Students following a degree program and carrying the required term load are granted class rank according to their credit hours earned.

Class Rank	Credit Hours
Freshman	0-30
Sophomore	30-60
Junior	60-90
Senior	90-120

A regular student is one who is admitted as a degree candidate.

A special student is one who is admitted with non-degree status and may enroll for a cumulative total of 15 credit hours. After completing 15 credit hours, a special student must apply for regular admission or receive special permission to continue.

A contract student, a degree candidate at another institution, is enrolled for credit at Queens through arrangements with the institution which will ultimately grant the degree.

A continuing education student is one who is enrolled only in non-credit programs.

Academic Standards

While Queens makes every effort to encourage students and to assist those in difficulty, it is unfair to the student and to the college to retain anyone who fails to make reasonable progress.

Eligibility to Continue

The Student Qualifications Committee reviews each case of academic difficulty at the end of Term I and II and determines the student's eligibility status.

Probation

A student who does not maintain satisfactory scholastic standing may be placed on academic probation. A student is automatically on academic probation if her cumulative quality point average is below the following values for class standing.

Class Standing	Credit Hours	Term I Completed	Term II Completed
Freshmen	0-30	1.500	1.800
Sophomores	30-60	1.800	1.900
Juniors	60-90	1.900	2.000
Seniors	90-120	2.000	2.000

A student on academic probation may petition the Student Qualifications Committee for exception from probation if the student has achieved a QPA of 2.500 or better for the previous Term I or II.

The student who does not show improvement and fails to meet the scholastic standard may be asked to withdraw from the college.

Eligibility to Represent the College

Students who maintain a quality point average of 2.000 or more the preceding term are eligible to represent the college in off-campus extracurricular activities and to hold campus offices during the current term. Students on probation are not eligible to represent the college.

Dean's List

Degree candidates who achieve a term average of 3.500 or better in at least 12 hours of graded work for the term are named to the Dean's List. Students with Incompletes in courses cannot be considered.

Attendance Policies

The college expects students to attend all class sessions. Specific attendance policies for each course are set by the individual faculty member. The faculty member announces at the beginning of each term the policy he intends to apply in each particular course.

All candidates for degrees are required to be present for commencement rehearsal, baccalaureate service, and the commencement exercises.

Examinations

The student's work is evaluated periodically. At the end of each term, evaluations—normally by written examination—are made in all courses. Final written examinations are generally between two and three hours long. In 300 and 400 level courses the instructor may give the examination during the regularly scheduled time or ask a take-out examination. The schedule for final examinations is established by the registrar. Permission to change an examination schedule or to make up an examination must be granted by the Dean of the College.

Withdrawal From a Course

A student must obtain permission from the Dean of the College to withdraw from a course. After the first full week of classes in any term, a student who drops a course receives a grade of W. The deadline for withdrawing from a course is one calendar week after the midpoint in any term.

Withdrawal From the College

A student wishing to withdraw from the college before end of the term must notify the Dean of the College in order to maintain a good standing. All grades are recorded as W. If the student does not give written notification to the Dean of the College before the end of the term, all grades are recorded as F.

The college reserves the right to require at any time the withdrawal of a student whose conduct or academic work is not considered satisfactory.

Academic Ineligibility

The faculty determines the academic standards which the Student Qualifications Committee administers. This committee reviews each case of academic difficulty. When students fail to make satisfactory progress according to guidelines stated in the catalogue the Student Qualifications Committee places various stipulations to encourage the student to meet the minimum standards. These stipulations are sent in writing to students and to parents or guardians of minors. If the student does not meet the stipulations set she will be subject to dismissal from the college. All decisions regarding dismissal may be appealed to the President of the College. Following a full semester of absence from the college, a student may apply for readmission.

Auditing Courses

A regular student carrying a load of 12 to 16 credit hours and maintaining a B average may, with the consent of the Dean of the College and at the request of the instructor, audit a course. Special students may petition the Dean of the College for permission to audit a course. An auditor is expected to attend classes regularly.

Summer School Credits

Approved summer courses taken at other accredited colleges and universities and carrying a grade of C or higher may be counted toward the 120 credit hours required for graduation, provided these courses are comparable or supplemental to those offered at Queens and have been approved by the advisor and the related department head, or the Dean of the College. In calculating a student's quality point average for graduation, only the credit hours and quality points earned at Queens are counted.

Undergraduate Program Tests

The college arranges for and requires all students academically classified as seniors to take the Undergraduate Program Tests.

Courses of Instruction

Course Listings

Course listings give general information concerning each area of study and the requirements for major programs in each discipline. These requirements should be carefully noted by students when deciding on a major.

Most of the courses in the following section will be offered in Terms I and II; however, catalogue courses for the January Inter-Term are also listed.

January-Term

January-Term at Queens College provides a period of study during which a student concentrates on one course or learning experience. This may involve off-campus travel, an internship, an independent study, a directed reading course or a specially designed symposium. The symposiums are interdisciplinary in nature and are designed primarily for the freshman and sophomore student.

Course Numbers

In general, courses numbered 100-299 are primarily for freshmen and sophomores; those numbered 300-499 are primarily for juniors and seniors. In specific cases, however, the individual student's ability and background rather than her class standing will determine the appropriate level of work.

Double numbers separated by a comma (e.g. 310, 302) indicate that the completion of both courses forms a desirable unit. Occasionally the first course is a prerequisite to the second.

Course Changes

Queens College reserves the right to change the course offerings and instructors indicated in this catalogue without prior notice to persons who may thereby be affected. Every effort is made to help a student affected by a course change by providing the opportunity for an independent study or seminar arrangement.

Teacher certification may be obtained as a part of the student's regular four-year program. Course work is designed to meet requirements in North Carolina and some other states. Students planning to teach in a state other than North Carolina should obtain a copy of the requirements of that state and plan a program to meet those requirements.

Departmental objectives state that the education of teachers is threefold: they are liberally educated; they pursue in depth their teaching specialties; and they acquire the necessary professional knowledge and skills needed in teaching; that the certification of teachers is limited to the areas in which the college has majors or well-established programs; that the education of teachers is the joint responsibility of the academic departments and the department of education; and that one of the ways of accomplishing the college's purpose as an educational institution is to prepare individuals both for personal fulfillment and for contribution to society.

Certification is possible in early childhood education (grades K-3); intermediate (grades 4-9); in secondary-level teaching (grades 7-12) in English, French, Spanish, mathematics, science (or biology), and the social studies areas; and in the special subject areas (grades K-12) in art, Bible, media education, and music.

All students seeking certification are required to have an area of concentration in an academic field or a regular or a self-structured major in education and must meet all requirements for graduation. Students in the early childhood program may choose to major in early childhood education or any other area of concentration offered and at the same time fulfill certification requirements. Students may use a self-structured major in education or in combination with one or more academic areas.

Early planning for certification is advisable. For specific requirements in teaching fields, students should consult the special departmental bulletins on teacher education.

The Early Learning Center provides experiences for a small group of children and opportunity for Queens students to observe and work with children on campus.

Major

The major in Early Childhood Education requires the following courses: Education 202, 221, 305, 311, 312, 333, 334, 401, and 446; and nine credit hours of 300-400 courses related to the major and approved by the department. In addition, the student must complete in other departments subject matter courses required for the teaching certificate in early childhood education.

Art

The Art department offers a four-year program leading to the Bachelor or Arts Degree, and a 135 credit hour program through the Institute of Design leading to the Bachelor of Fine Arts Degree. The curricula are designed to prepare students for teaching, graduate study, or professional careers in Art and Design areas.

Major Bachelor of Arts

Art 101, 104, 204, 211, 212, 233, 301, 302, 314 and at least 12 credit hours numbered 300 or above, to include one upper level course in art history.

Major Bachelor of Fine Arts

A total of seventy-two credit hours in studio courses and fifteen hours in art history is required. Thirty credit hours in studio courses and six credit hours in art history will be satisfied through the Foundation Year Program, a specified sequence of courses within which the beginning student explores basic concepts and skills relating to a broad range of studio disciplines. During these two years, studio experiences are balanced by basic courses in art history and liberal arts to strengthen the humanistic base of the program. The essential aim of the program is to develop intellectual and performance abilities, and assure a solid foundation for further development of the student. Course requirements for the Foundation Program include Art 104, 204, 211, 212, 223, 233, 234, 235, 302, 310, 314, and 327.

Upon successful completion of a two-year Foundation Program and a portfolio evaluation, a student is then eligible to enter the Institute of Design phase, a course of study leading to the Bachelor of Fine Arts Degree. The purpose of the Institute of Design is to accelerate professional competence through advanced levels of exploration in specialized areas; to foster independent thought and a critical attitude through analyzing and solving problems of a theoretical and applied nature; to promote a sensitivity to social and environmental factors related to design solutions; and to infuse humanistic awareness and professional preparation into the broad spectrum of Art and Design functions within society.

An integral part of the Institute of Design is the Internship Program, in which the student will spend up to a year at another institution to pursue training in specialized courses, or to be involved in an apprenticeship program within her specialty at another institution or in industry.

After acceptance in the Institute of Design a student may choose from four areas of concentration. An emphasis in Painting must include Art 301, 402, 412, 460, and 470; an emphasis in Ceramics must include Art 315, 324, 384, 444, and 484; for an emphasis in Textile Design, Art 325, 326, 425, 426, and 475; for an emphasis in Furniutre Design, Art 303, 325, 350, 425, and 490.

All Bachelor of Fine Arts condidates are required to fulfill the same distributed requirements as those required of all liberal arts candidates, plus an additional six hours of electives outside the art department.

A research project involving six credit hours is required of all seniors. A total of 135 hours is required for graduation.

Minor

Art 101, 104, 211, or 212, 233, 314 and two additional courses at the 300 level or above.

Distributed Requirements

101, and art history courses which include 211, 212, 307, 328, 329, 330 and 331 will fulfill distributed requirements.
Studio courses may not be taken on a Pass/No record basis.

Prerequisite: Art 100.

Four hours studio a week. Supply Fee $15.

223 Ceramics

3 Hrs.

Fundamentals of both hand building and throwing on the potter's wheel. Hand building techniques will include pinch, coil, and slab construction. Glaze instructions will stress the relationship between form and color.

Six hours a week. Supply Fee $35.

233 Two-Dimensional Design

3 Hrs.

Exploration of basic elements of line, pattern, texture, in relation to surface concerns of movement, rhythm, and direction; the use of traditional and non-traditional media; various approaches to the organization and interaction of form in two dimensional space.

Six hours studio a week. Supply Fee $20.

234 Three-Dimensional Design

3 Hrs.

Exploration of basic elements of three-dimensional form and space; use of a wide variety of materials and tools; various approaches to the organization and interaction of form in three-dimensional space.
Prerequisite: Art 233.

235 Color

3 Hrs.

A studio course to develop knowledge and awareness of the physical and perceptual nature of color in both pigments and light; to study various color theories and systems of organization; to develop skills in the use of color as an expressive and communicative tool.

300 Principles of Art Education

3 Hrs.

Exploration of historical and contemporary approaches to art education, with classroom observation in local schools.

301 Drawing III

3 Hrs.

An advanced drawing course encouraging an independent and critical attitude and approach through more extended, student-directed studies in a wide variety of media, including work in color.
Prerequisite: Art 104, 204.

302 Painting

3 Hrs.

Studies in basic structure and color, with emphasis on pictorial elements interpreted through painting media.
Prerequisite: Art 101, 104 or permission of instructor.
Six hours studio a week.

303 Design Materials

3 Hrs.

An examination of design properties in various types of wood; development of basic hand and machine tool operation; approaches to model construction.
Prerequisite: Foundation Program.

305 European Art

3 Hrs.—Class session in Vienna, five weeks—Offered only in the Queens European Program, The Institute of European Studies.

European painting, sculpture, architecture, artifacts, and jewelry observed during the Queens European Program. Many class sessions in Vienna museums.

Six hours studio a week. Supply Fee $25.

314 Sculpture

3 Hrs.

Fundamental studies in the creative organization of space and mass; the technical problems of modeling, casting, and carving.
Prerequisite: Art 101 or permission of instructor.
Six hours studio a week. Supply Fee $25.

315 Advanced Sculpture

3 Hrs.

Advanced studies in form and methods relating to the design and construction of three dimensional objects.
Prerequisite: Art 314.
Six hours studio a week. Supply Fee $25.

324 CERAMICS II

3 Hrs.

Further exploration of ceramic possibilities including advanced throwing techniques, larger hand construction projects as well as basic glaze formulation theory.
Prerequisite: Ceramics I.
Six hours studio a week. Supply Fee $35.

325 Textile Design I

3 Hrs.

An introductory course in both structural and nonstructural textiles involving tools and techniques of the textile designer.
Prerequisite: Foundation Program.

326 Weaving Design I

3 Hrs.

Introduction to woven fabric design. Students work on projects to understand application of materials, structures and aesthetics in designing fabrics.
Prerequisite: Foundation Program.

327 Photography

3 Hrs.

Open to Art Majors primarily. Photography used as an expressive medium and as a tool for exploring visual experience. Emphasis will be on selection and treatment of subject matter. Students will learn necessary skills in photographic technique and be acquainted with the historical development of photography.

328 Nineteenth Century Painting

Prerequisite: Art 211, 212, or permission of instructor. This course fulfills the distribution requirement in area VI.

350 Furniture Design I

3 Hrs.

Emphasis on the study of form and function; design and execution of model forms in wood; considerations of form within interior space.
Prerequisite: Foundation Program.

384 Ceramic Design

3 Hrs.

Students would develop a repertoire of original decoration and learn to adapt them to a variety of forms. This course would include extensive exposure to the history of ceramic forms and decoration with particular emphasis on post-World War II developments. To integrate the design experience, joint lectures and demonstrations would be scheduled with painting and drawing classes.
Prerequisite: Art 233, 324.

402 Advanced Painting

3 Hrs.

Advanced study with an emphasis on the individual development and experimentation in a chosen painting medium.
Prerequisite: Art 302.

Six hours studio a week.

410 Advanced Printmaking

3 Hrs.

Continued study in relief printing techniques and serigraphy; encouragement of independent exploration within the medium through student-directed assignments.
Prerequisite: Art 310.

Six hours studio a week.

412 Painting III

3 Hrs.

Further exploration in painting on an independent study basis.
Prerequisite: Art 302, 402.

420 Furniture Design II

3 Hrs.

A continuation of Art 350. Emphasis on design and execution of full-scale prototypes, with attention to shaping, jointing and finishing.
Prerequisite: Art 350.

425 Textile Design II

3 Hrs.

Application of fabric design through the use of batik, silk screen, tie-dye, direct dye application and combined techniques.
Prerequisite: Art 325.

426 Weaving Design II

3 Hrs.

Design and weaving of fabric projects. Emphasis is on combining materials, structures, color pattern and texture toward a desired end use.
Prerequisite: Art 326.

444 Ceramic Materials

3 Hrs.

This course would cover clay materials, glaze chemistry and firing techniques. Students would investigate the physical properties and potentialities of glaze materials. They would learn to do glaze calculations to create original glazes and to alter glaze characteristics. Special attention would be paid to native North Carolina materials in the above work. Students would apply this research when learning to fire the existing gas reduction kiln at Queens.
Prerequisite: Art 223.

450 Problems in Art

3 Hrs.

Advanced work in specialized areas of art for students with unusual talent and scholarship. No student may take work in more than two areas.

Admission by permission of the department. Supply Fee: to be determined by project.

460 Sources and Concepts

3 Hrs.

A seminar course based on discussions of the participant's studio work. Specifically an examination of concepts and sources from two perspectives: (1) from the student's personal development and experience and (2) from related readings in art history, criticism, psychology, philosophy, and other disciplines.
Prerequisite: Art 302, 402, 412 or permission of instructor.

470 Experimental Studio

3 Hrs.

A course encouraging individual and group experiments in two areas: (1) with the use of new or non-traditional materials (both physical media such as video, light, and sound; and symbolic materials such as language or numbers) and (2) with new concepts and attitudes toward the use of materials.

Prerequisite: Foundation Program or equivalent.

475 Textile Design III

3 Hrs.

Application of advanced printing and combined technique in design fabrics.
Prerequisite: Art 425.

484 Kiln Construction

3 Hrs.

As students studied the historical development of firing techniques they would concurrently construct working kiln models. These would range from the most primitive open firings to modern electric kilns. Work fired by all methods would be examined in the light of the varied effects on clay of different fuels and firings. The ecological ramifications of different fuels would also be considered. Contemporary materials and industrial procedures would be studied through visits and internships with clay manufacturers in the state.
Prerequisite: Art 223, 444.

490 Furniture Design III

3 Hrs.

Structural detailing, working drawings, technical considerations for production.
Prerequisite: Art 420.

498-499 Senior Thesis

3-3 Hrs.

A final project to be worked out between advisor and student during senior year, to be presented before the art faculty prior to graduation.

Music

The music department puts emphasis upon the individual purpose of each student whether she is pursuing music as a professional career, developing a special ability, studying to become a teacher, or is interested in music as a part of her liberal education. Small classes allow personal attention, and students receive private instruction under teachers who are performing artists.* Ensemble work is stressed through participation in the musical organizations of the college. The more advanced students have many opportunities for group and solo performances in the City of Charlotte through local organizations such as the Charlotte Opera Association, the Oratorio Singers, the Charlotte Symphony Orchestra, and church choirs.

Major Bachelor of Arts

Forty credit hours in music including Music 100, 103, 104, 113, 114, 203, 204, 213, 214, 307, 308, 407; Physics 103; at least two years of ensemble work (choir, chorus, and/or instrumental ensemble); attendance at a specified number of public recitals of students and faculty; and at least one credit hour of private training in applied music for four terms. At least 18 of the 40 hours shall be in courses numbered 300 and above. The following fields can be elected for special emphasis under this degree: general music, applied music, history and literature, scared music, and theory.

Major Bachelor of Music

American Studies

American studies is an interdisciplinary major program which allows students to choose, from a number of major areas, courses dealing with American life and culture, and to pursue an analysis of specific areas of American civilization through a senior seminar and independent study projects.

A concentration in American studies encourages students to examine the forces shaping America's civilization, and to integrate a number of academic areas in order to analyze and evaluate the American experience.

Careers

An American studies major should grasp the facts of American culture and intellectual history so that she may integrate the knowledge and research technology from a variety of disciplines into a coherent whole. Through an emphasis in economics or political science a career in public administration, foreign service, or law is possible. Through coordinated study of art, archeology, and history combined with internships or practicums a position in historic preservation is possible; with course work and internships in journalism, a career in newspaper writing may result. Graduate training in American studies is available at an increasing number of universities, with courses offered in conjunction with libraries, museums, or foundations. Through consultation with the education department, social studies or English certification is possible at both intermediate and secondary levels.

Majors

At least nine hours in American history, including 203 and 204; English 331, 332; plus 15 hours at the 300 level in courses with an American emphasis (as listed below) to be chosen in consultation with an American studies advisor. In addition, American studies majors are required to take American Studies 200, 400, and 450.

Minor

At least 18 hours in courses with an American emphasis in addition to American Studies 200, 400, and American Studies Senior Thesis.

Electives

American studies majors may elect their major program from among the following courses: Art 307; Business 100; Economics 351; English 328, 329, 333, 352; History 325, 326, 389, 392, 393, 394, 396, 397, 398; Music 207; Philosophy 310c; Religion 317, 323; Political Science 201, 308, 310, 313, 315, 325, 326; Sociology 308, 325, 340.

200 The American Experience

3 Hrs.

The course will explore significant interrelationships among politics, economics, literature, the arts and religion at selected moments of American history. An interdisciplinary course, it will serve as an introduction to studies in American culture.

400 Senior Seminar in American Studies

3 Hrs.

Colloquium for American studies majors who meet for papers, reports, and lectures to synthesize insights about American society.

450 American Studies Senior Thesis

3 Hrs.

Opportunity for independent investigation of a theme or project to culminate in a written report. (Open to American Studies majors only.)

English

Courses in the department include composition, literature, speech, film, dramatic arts, and journalism. Students are encouraged to take courses in all these areas, but courses in speech, film, dramatic arts (unless specified), and journalism do not count towards a regular major in English. Initial courses train the student to perceive and evaluate the form, structure, and inner dynamics of any literary work. Advanced courses focus on specialized areas of relevance and are designed to give the student an awareness of ways in which other disciplines can contribute to a fuller understanding of literature.

Careers

Study of literature and composition affords preparation for professional schools in law and teaching. In addition students majoring in this department find their training applicable to editing, newspaper and television journalism, copywriting for publishers and advertising agencies. When combined with study in economics and business, careers may be planned for public relations and personnel work. Career opportunities also exist in films, theatre, and many phases of creative writing. Students may also obtain teaching certificates through elective courses.

Students interested in drama and theatre may want to consider the program outlined in the section on dramatic art.

Major

English 201, English 301, 302; and 21 additional hours. The following courses in Dramatic Art will be accepted: 303, 304, 327, 336. Major advisors will consult with students in career and graduate school preparation, and in planning tailored programs in journalism, teaching, and drama. Advanced placement will allow exemption from 201. Outstanding majors will be invited by the department to participate in a program of special study which if successfully completed will result in graduation with Honors in English.

Minor

English 201, 301, 302, and 12 additional hours, nine of which must be at the 300 level or above.

Distributed Requirements

The requirement, Area I, is met by English 101 or 105, and is usually taken in Term I of the freshman year. (However, English 201 may be taken simultaneously with 101 or 105.) The requirement, Area VI, in literature may be met by any course on the 200 or 300 level; or, if taken in the foreign language department, any literature course numbered 300 or above.

Students with an SAT verbal score of 600 or above are exempt from the Area I distributed requirement in English. These students may wish, however, to elect English 105, a course normally taken by Queens Scholars.

Prerequisite

English 201 is prerequisite to all English courses numbered 300 and above. In certain cases, however, with the approval of the instructor, non-English majors may be accepted into courses numbered 300 and above.

101 Research Writing Skills

3 Hrs.

Course designed to help freshmen write clearly and directly through close examination of their own essays and those of their classmates. Emphasis will be placed on the students' developing personal critical standards, using research techniques accurately and logically, and having a variety of writing experiences so that they will be enabled to write more effectively throughout their college careers.

101 Writing Workshop

The writing worskshop is required as part of English 101. It provides a review center for basic grammar and composition skills in which each student works under supervision and on an individualized basis. Students attend the workshop until certified as competent in basic skills. Competency is determined by the workshop supervisor and the freshman writing instructor.

The workshop is also available to upperclassmen on the recommendation of the faculty.

105 Communications in the Humanities

3 Hrs.

Broad humanistic problems in the arts and sciences of the past and present will be explored with a stress on the techniques of effective communication in writing. Topics for term papers will be selected from the readings for the course. Class discussions, selected films, assigned papers will direct the student to a structured view of four main cultural areas: the Greeks, the Renaissance, science, and the contemporary world.

Queens Scholars are encouraged to participate in English 105.

Foreign Languages and Literatures

Majors in French, Spanish, and Latin-American Studies are available in this department. Major work in any one of these areas provides the basis for graduate study.

Careers

Career opportunities involving language skills include such areas as education, journalism, broadcasting, research, library science, translation, business, travel, health services, and employment with the Foderal Government. The acquisition of foreign language skills in addition to other skills increases career options. A special interdisciplinary Business/Foreign Language major provides skills in both areas.

Placement

College Board Foreign Language Achievement Test scores are used as a guide for placement. At the time of registration entering students who have taken this test will be informed of their foreign language study options. A student must be properly placed in a language course before she is eligible for credit.

Study Abroad

Students majoring in foreign languages will be encouraged to study abroad under the auspices and programs of approved institutions. Foreign language study, when it occurs as part of such programs, must be approved in advance by the student's language advisor. Credit for such work will be granted only upon receipt of transcripts and/or the successful completion of a departmental examination.

Distributed Requirements

All foreign language courses except 299, 350 and 399 meet distributed requirements in Area II, but elementary courses numbered 101 may fulfill the Area II requirement only upon satisfactory completion of the courses numbered 102. Any departmental literature course numbered 300 and above will fulfill the requirement in Area VI.

Business/Foreign Language Major

Students majoring in this interdisciplinary program will acquire business as well as foreign language skills.

The fifteen hours of business courses required for this major include Economics 203 or 204, Business 207, 214, 310.

Optional courses suggested are Business 210, 308; Economics 351; Psychology 303.

The foreign language component of the major would be French and/or Spanish.

Under Option One, the student will select fifteen hours of one foreign language, including 321, 399, and 310 or 451. Under Option Two, the student will complete nine hours of one language, including 321, 399, and 310 or 451, and six hours of the second language, including 321, and 399.

Division of Interdisciplinary Studies

European Studies

Major in European Studies

The major in European studies is an interdisciplinary program which offers students a comprehensive knowledge of European civilization and enables graduates to consider business and diplomatic careers in Europe.

The program consists of four parts:

1. At least 39 credit hours in one of several concentrations dealing with Europe.

2. A senior seminar which is included in the 39 credit hours.

3. Electives relating to Europe.

4. Residency in Europe.

Optional Concentrations

A student majoring in European studies must select one of five areas for concentration; residency in Europe is required with each.

Economics/Business

Eighteen hours of economics and business courses including Economics 422 and Business 352, 410, 450; History 102, 387, 388; Political Science 301 and 323; a 321 conversation course in a foreign language; European Studies 470.

Electives from other departments which support the major include English 217 and any European literature course; Philosophy 301, 302, 303; Psychology 303; Religion 304, 315, 345; and Sociology 313, 316.

European Residency

A student majoring in European studies must fulfill a residence requirement in Europe.

The foreign student advisor assists majors in planning a European residence and must approve all proposed residency programs, which should be scheduled during Term II of the junior year, the summer following the junior year, or Term I of the senior year. The foreign student advisor and the student's academic advisor will consult with the student during the residency and will determine the academic credit to be transferred or awarded for it when the student returns.

A student must fulfill the European residency requirement by participating in the Experiment in International Living, a program of the Association of United Colleges for Foreign Exchange and Study by attending a European educational institution, or by enrolling in an American sponsored academic program which does not isolate United States participants from other students. Credits earned through these programs and approved by the committee may be transferred to Queens College.

As an alternative, a student may register for European Studies 370: Residency in Europe.

370 Residency in Europe

An informal program of settled residency in Europe, planned by the student and offering as many as 12 credit hours on a P/NR basis. Credit may be granted for simple domicile with journal at one credit hour per month, or two credit hours per month if student is employed.

This course may not be taken concurrently with any international program for which credit may transfer to Queens.

470 Seminar on Europe (Senior Seminar)

3 Hrs.

An on-campus course required of all students majoring in European studies; taken during senior year. Students engage in independent study on an approved subject, participate in group discussions on selected topics, and meet with specialists in various branches of European studies.

Honors Program

The Queens College Honors Program is designed for the academically talented student to provide her with as high a degree of freedom and individual challenge as possible.

Each year all students enrolled for a minimum of 12 hours and maintaining a cumulative grade point average of 3.000 or higher are designated "Eligible for Honors." These students are permitted and encouraged to participate in the Honors Program. Students with grades of Incomplete are ineligible for honors unless granted special permission by the Honors Committee. Transfer students must spend one regular term at Queens before becoming eligible for honors.

Dana Scholars

Approximately 10 students each in the rising sophomore, junior and senior classes are designated Dana Scholars. These awards are based on scholarship and leadership.

Graduation with Honors

The titles summa cum laude, magna cum laude, and cum laude and awarded by the administration upon the recommendation of the Honors Committee and approval of the faculty. The title summa cum laude is awarded to students who have a grade point average of 3.850, and to students who have sucessfully completed an Honors Thesis and have a grade point average of 3.750; the title magna cum laude to students who have a grade point average of 3.650; and the title cum laude to students who have a grade point average of 3.500. 100 Interdisciplinary Studies: Introduction to General Studies

An interdisciplinary seminar which, through the use of selected books and other media, (1) takes the problem-focused approach to general education and demonstrates the integration of knowledge as desirable in our modern day world and (2) develops skills mainly in writing, reading and interpretive thinking and study. Aims to foster an awareness of the transactions of disciplines, to afford a common intellectual experience, to foster a sense of community in the special program, to facilitate reentry, and to afford the student an opportunity to examine her academic interests and needs.

Required of all General Studies candidates.

Not open to regular students.

Contemporary Affairs

200 Interdisciplinary Studies

3 Hrs.

An interdisciplinary course in a major contemporary issue, offered in response to student and faculty interest. Credit as elective only.

Folklore

203 Interdisciplinary Studies: European Folklore

3 Hrs.

Introduction to European folklore traditions, including study of folktales, customs, festivals and art forms. Credit as elective only.

204 Interdisciplinary Studies: American Folklore

3 Hrs.

Introduction to American Folklore traditions, including Indian Folklore, Black American traditions and folklife of other ethnic groups.

440 Interdisciplinary Studies: Independent Studies in Folklore

1 - 4 Hrs.

Problems and techniques in folklore research, including local fieldwork and report on a topic involving oral folklore, social custom, material culture, or folk arts.
Prerequisite: Interdisciplinary Studies 203 or 204 or permission instructor. May be repeated for up to four hours credit.

Science

101, 102 Environmental Science

3, 3 Hrs.

A study of the environmental issues confronting our present society: energy, population, pollution, natural resources, food production, materials production, waste disposal, transportation. Certain scientific principles are considered to the extent necessary for a basic understanding of the environmental problems, and some attention is given to the role of science in the development of and attempted solutions to these problems.

Major topics included in Environmental Science 101 are the earth and its place in the universe, the generation of electric energy, air pollution, thermal pollution, radioactivity, radioactive wastes and their disposal. Topics in Environmental Science 102 include land use, food production, population, water pollution, food additives, the urban and suburban environment, solid wastes, noise pollution, transportation.

These courses are intended primarily for non-science majors. They will be taught by a team of instructors selected from the biology, chemistry, and physics departments. Environmental Science 101, 102 will fulfill the Area IV distributed requirements.
Prerequisite: Environmental Science 101 or a college level physical science course is prerequisite to Environmental Science 102.

Three hours lecture, two hours laboratory a week.

450 Interdisciplinary Senior Thesis

3 Hrs.

Designed primarily for students who are pursuing a self-structured major or any student engaged in interdisciplinary study at the advanced level. The project is supervised and evaluated by the student's major advisor and at least one person from another department. Open only to seniors. Students pursuing an honors degree should plan to take Honors 490 instead of Interdisciplinary Thesis 450.

Division of Natural Science and Mathematics

Dr. Cobey; Associate Professor Coffey; Professor Duncan; Professor Fehon; Mr. Floyd; Assistant Professor Jann; Associate Professor Jenkins; Associate Professor Martin; Assistant Professor Messa; Professor Oates.

Biology

To serve the needs of the liberal arts student the department offers introductory work in biology with a contemporary molecular emphasis relating the field to the physical sciences and other disciplines.

Careers

Major study in biology provides basic preparation leading to work in research and medical laboratories, government positions, related businesses, teaching, and graduate study in biology, medicine, hospital administration or veterinary science.

A unique program in marine science is offered each summer at Pawleys Island, South Carolina. The department is also affiliated with the Gulf Coast Research Laboratory, Ocean Springs, Mississippi. Courses available to Queens students are listed at the end of this section.

Biology Internship

Students may gain practical experience in various fields of biology science during their junior or senior year. Details of this program may be obtained from the department chairman.

Major: Bachelor of Arts

Biology 103, 204, 206 and 25 credit hours from biology courses numbered 200 and above as approved by the major advisor. Students majoring in biology are required to take eight credit hours of chemistry and Mathematics 105 or 112 or 206. Chemistry 403, 404 may be substituted for biology electives. Candidates for teaching certificates may substitute up to four credit hours of Education 442 for biology electives. Students majoring in biology are advised to take physics and organic chemistry.

Major: Bachelor of Science

Biology 103, 204, 206; and three courses from 301, 302, 303, 304, 310, 405, 425; two courses from 300, 306, 315, 401, and nine hours of biology courses numbered 200 and above as approved by the major advisor. Students majoring in this program are required to take two years of chemistry including a term of organic chemistry; Physics 101, 102; Mathematics 112 and 211 or 206. In addition intermediate-level proficiency is required in a foreign language.

Minor

A minor in biology consists of Biology 103, 204, 206 and eight hours of approved biology electives.

Distributed Requirements

The requirement for Area IV is met with Biology 103.

Prerequisite

Biology 103 is prerequisite to all other courses offered in the department.

103 Introduction to Biology

4 Hrs.

Course to introduce the student to methods and philosophy of biological science and to acquaint the student with current problems in the field; emphasis on the ecological approach with special attention to man-created problems.

Six hours lecture and laboratory a week.

111 Human Anatomy

4 Hrs.

A study of the structure of the human body. Laboratory includes human osteology and mammalian dissection.

Three hours lecture and three hours laboratory a week.

(May not be counted toward major or as distributed requirement.)

112 Human Physiology

4 Hrs.

A study of the function of the human body. Laboratory study designed to demonstrate basic physiological principles.

Three houre lecture and three hours laboratory a week.

(May not be counted toward major or as distributed requirement.)

120 Introduction to Medical Microbiology

3 Hrs.

Principles of microbiology with emphasis on the pathogenic bacteria, viruses, rickettsiae, and fungi. Laboratory includes methods for cultivation, isolation, and identification of the above.

(May not be counted toward major or as distributed requirement.)

204 Plant Biology

4 Hrs.

Morphological survey of the plant kingdom; study of life cycles emphasizing evolutionary changes; consideration of economic aspects.

Eight hours lecture and laboratory a week.

206 Animal Biology

4 Hrs.

Survey of the animal kingdom; study of the organization and activities of animals with emphasis on man; and evolution of animal life.

Eight hours lecture and laboratory a week.

230 Field Studies in Biology

Offered on demand – 1-4 Hrs.

Includes studies in selected habitats or of particular groups of animals or plants, or travel-study to unusual habitats or ecosystems.

Topics are announced annually.
Prerequisite: Permission of the instructor. May be repeated under different subtitles, or by permission.

280 Research Participation

3 Hrs.

An introduction to biological research by participation in research with faculty and/or upperclassman. Students will attend seminars, conduct individual investigations, and present the results of their work at the end of the term.
Prerequisite: Permission of the instructor. (May not be counted toward distributed requirement.)

300 Cell Biology

4 Hrs.

Study of cell structure and physiology. Laboratory emphasizes research methods including instruments and techniques used in studying cells.
Prerequisite: At least one year of college chemistry; Biology 204 and 206 recommended.

Eight hours lecture and laboratory a week.

301 Vertebrate Embryology

4 Hrs.

Study of development with emphasis on vertebrates and a brief introduction to experimental embryology. Laboratory emphasizes amphibians and birds.
Prerequisite: Biology 206.

Eight hours lecture and laboratory a week.

302 Comparative Vertebrate Anatomy

4 Hrs.

Review of the evolutionary history of vertebrates with comparative study of their systems. Laboratory dissection of dogfish, mud puppy, and cat.
Prerequisite: Biology 206.

Eight hours lecture and laboratory a week.

303 Invertebrate Zoology

4 Hrs.

Study of the invertebrate phyla; comparative anatomy and physiology; natural history; systematics and evolution. Laboratory includes physiological experiments and emphasizes marine forms.
Prerequisite: Biology 206.

Eight hours lecture and laboratory a week.

304 Ecology

4 Hrs.

Relationship of organisms to their environment; populations and communities; aquatic and terrestrial habitats; statistical methods. Laboratory includes both experimental and field studies.
Prerequisite: Biology 204, 206.

Eight hours lecture and laboratory or field work a week.

306 Laboratory Microbiology

4 Hrs.

General survey of microorganisms with emphasis on morphology, metabolism, ecology, and taxonomy of bacteria. Laboratory includes independent studies.
Prerequisite: Eight credit hours of chemistry.

Eight hours lecture and laboratory a week.

310 Marine Biology

4 Hrs.

Introduction to oceanography and marine biology with emphasis on ecology and distribution and classification of local fauna and flora.
Prerequisite: Biology 206; Biology 303 recommended.

Four weeks, summer session only, at Pawleys Island, South Carolina.

315 Histology and Microtechnique

Offered on demand—4 Hrs.

The study of animal cells, tissues, and organs, Laboratory emphasizes practical experience in preparation of microscope slides.
Prerequisite: Biology 206.

401 Comparative Vertebrate Physiology

4 Hrs.

Study of the function of vertebrate systems. Comparisons made to invertebrate systems where appropriate. Includes lecture and laboratory experimentation.
Prerequisites: Biology 302 or permission of instructor; one year college chemistry.

Eight hours lecture and laboratory a week.

402 Genetics

3 Hrs.

Principles of heredity and variation in plants and animals.
Prerequisite: Mathematics 112 or permission of the instructor. Does not count toward major without Biology 402L.

Three hours lecture a week.

402L Genetics Laboratory

1 Hr.

Laboratory methods in breeding genetically important species.
Corequisite: Biology 402.

Three hours laboratory a week.

405 Plant Systematics

4 Hrs.

Development of systems of classification; study of basic principles; practice in identification; collection and study of members of plant families represented in local flora.
Prerequisite: Biology 204

Eight hours lecture and laboratory a week.

425 Biology of Parasitism

4 Hrs.

Introduction to biological principles involved in parasitism of animals including man; host-parasite relationships; ecology; structure and classification.
Prerequisite or Corequisite: Biology 303.

Three hours lecture and three hours laboratory a week.

430 Topics in Biology

1 - 4 Hrs.

This course provides the opportunity for a faculty member and a group of interested students to study a subject that is not offered on a regular basis in the curriculum. Topics are announced annually. May be repeated for credit under different subtitles.
Prerequisite: One year of college biology. May vary with topic. Lecture and Laboratory hours vary with the hours credit and the course taught.

450 Independent Studies in Biology

1 to 4 Hrs.

Research projects in the area of the student's interest; written report and/or oral examination may be required; summer research in marine biology. May be taken more than once but total credits may not exceed six hours.

Admission by permission of the instructor.

460 Biology Seminar

1 Hr.

Invited guests, faculty, and students present oral reports on topics of their specific interest and experience in biology and related fields.
Prerequisite: 12 hours of biology above the 100 level or permission of the instructor. May be repeated for credit.

One hour per week lecture, or discussion.

490 Internship in Biology

6 Hrs.

Practical experience under supervision in the field of biological science.
Prerequisite: At least 24 credits in biology and permission of the department.

Gulf Coast Research Laboratory

Queens students may receive credit for the following courses which are given at the Gulf Coast Research Laboratory at Ocean Springs, Mississippi. These are offered during summer session only.

Biology 361

Marine Botany—4 Hrs.

A survey, based upon local examples of the principal groups of marine algae and maritime flowering plants, treating structure, reproduction, distribution, identification, and ecology.
Prerequisite: 10 hours of biology, including introductory botany.

Biology 362

Marine Vertebrate Zoology and Ichthyology—6 Hrs.

A general study of the marine Chordata, including lower groups and the mammals and birds, with most emphasis on the fishes.

Prerequisite: 16 hours of zoology including comparative anatomy.

Biology 452

Marine Microbiology—5 Hrs.

A general course designed to introduce the student to the role of microorganisms in the overall ecology of the oceans and estuaries. Lecture and laboratory work includes sampling procedures, taxonomy of marine bacteria, mineralization, microbial fouling, pollution, and diseases of marine animals. Prerequisite: Biology 306.

Biology 461

Parasites of Marine Animals—6 Hrs.

A study of the parasites of marine animals with emphasis on the morphology, taxonomy, life histories, and host-parasite relations.
Prerequisite: General parasitology (Biology 425).

Lecture, laboratory, and field work are included.

Chemistry

The Bachelor of Arts program emphasizes the breadth of liberal arts study in terms of a wide range of elective courses together with a sound education in chemical principals and laboratory skills. Teacher certification may be obtained in the B.A. program.

The Bachelor of Science program is designed to provide an educational experience with more depth in science and mathematics. Students are prepared by this program to pursue careers in chemistry and medicine which will require graduate study or formal professional training in medical school. Well-equipped laboratories and qualified staff make possible a special emphasis on clinical and industrial applications of chemistry.

Careers

Students plannng to pursue careers in science and medically related fields should take courses in chemistry. These careers include chemistry, biochemistry, biology, forensic science, medicine, nursing, laboratory technology, medical technology, dental technology, physical therapy, veterinary medicine, and nuclear medical technology.

Majors in Biochemistry

Major for a B.A. in biochemistry: Chemistry 101, 102, 208, 303, 308, 403, 404, 405; Laboratories 1, 2, 3, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9; 12 credit hours of approved biology courses above the 100 level; Physics 101, 102; Mathematics 112. Mathematics 211 and a foreign language are recommended. Major for a B.S. in biochemistry: Chemistry 101, 102, 208, 303, 304, 307, 308, 403, 404; Laboratories 1, 2, 3, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9; 12 credit hours of approved biology courses above the 100 level; Physics 101, 102; Mathematics 112, 211. Proficiency in a foreign language at the intermediate level is required, and Chemistry 405 is recommended.

Minor

A minor in chemistry requires completion of any three courses in chemistry beyond the 100 level.

A minor in biochemistry requires completion of Chemistry 403, 404, and 405.

Distributed Requirements

The requirement, Area IV, may be met by Chemistry 101; also Chemistry 102 or Chemistry 303 by permission of department.

Course Sequences

After completing Chemistry 102, students are advised to take courses in the order listed in either of two sequences:

Instrumentation—Physical Chemistry sequence: 208, 307, 308.

Organic Chemistry—Biochemistry sequence: 303, 403, 404.

Other courses may be taken in any sequence provided prerequisites are met.

Laboratories

The department requires a student to register for a laboratory with each class course.

101 General Chemistry I

3Hrs.

This course includes the structure of the atom; the structure of the nucleus and nuclear chemistry; the Periodic Table; chemical bonding; solids, liquids, and gases; and stoichiometric relationships, the properties of solutions, colloidal systems, chemical equilibria, thermochemistry, electrochemistry, metals, and non-metals.

Three hours lecture a week.

102 General Chemistry II

3 Hrs.

This course is an introduction to organic chemistry and biochemistry, including functional groups, reactions, synthesis, and mechanisms.
Prerequisite: Chemistry 101 or permission of instructor.

Three hours lecture a week.

208 Instrumental Analysis I

3 Hrs.

Introduction to instrumentation and instrumental analysis with emphasis on fundamental electronic units, instrument design and construction and analytical application.
Prerequisite: Chemistry 102 or permission of the instructor.

Three hours lecture a week.

303 Organic Chemistry I

3 Hrs.

Introductory course including an integrated survey of the more important compounds of the aliphatic and aromatic series; emphasis on problems in organic synthesis.
Prerequisite: Chemistry 102 or permission of the instructor.

Three hours lecture a week.

307 Instrumental Analysis II

3 Hrs.

A second course in instrumental analysis with emphasis on analytical methodology.
Prerequisite: Chemistry 208.

Three hours lecture a week.

308 Physical Chemistry I

Alternate years – 3 Hrs.

Study of the structure of gases, the physical properties of matter, the laws of thermodynamics and the principles of equilibria.
Prerequisite: Chemistry 102 or permission of the instructor; Mathematics 112; Physics 101, which may be taken concurrently.

Three hours lecture a week.

403 Biochemistry I

3 Hrs.

Study of the chemistry of carbohydrates, fatty acids, lipids, amino acids and proteins; solutions, especially pH measurement and calculations; antigen-antibody reactions in immunoelectrophoresis; special topics in biochemical research (each student presents a report).
Prerequisite: Chemistry 303.

404 Biochemistry II

4 Hrs.

Emphasis is on enzymes and metabolism with special reference to recent work on enzyme kinetics.
Prerequisite: Chemistry 403 or Biology 300 or permission of the instructor.

Three hours lecture a week.

405 Physiological Chemistry

3 Hrs.

A course applying principles of biochemistry to the interpretation of normal and abnormal genetic and physiological states occurring in Mammalia; discussion of digestive processes, fluid and acid-base balance, hormonal influence on physiological states, organ function tests, and excretory processes.
Prerequisite: Chemistry 404.

Three hours lecture a week.

450 Directed Individual Studies

2, 3, or 4 Hrs.

Individual research conducted by the student.
Prerequisite: Open to advanced students by permission of the instructor.

Three, six or nine hours of consultation and laboratory work a week.

460, 461 Chemistry Seminar

1, 1 Hrs.

Faculty and students will present oral reports on new or important developments in chemistry or in fields directly related to chemistry.
Prerequisite: Chemistry 208 or 303 or permission of the instructor.
May be repeated for credit.

One hour lecture a week.

Chemistry Laboratories

Laboratory 1 — Introduction I

1 Hr.

This laboratory introduces the student to elementary glass-working, general laboratory equipment and techniques, the principles of quantitative operations, and qualitative analysis.

Three hours laboratory a week.

Laboratory 2 — Introduction II

1 Hr.

The student in this laboratory is introduced to semimicro technique, chromatography, elementary organic and biochemical techniques.
Prerequisite: Laboratory 1 or permission of the department.

Three hours laboratory a week.

Laboratory 3 — Instrumentation I

1 Hr.

The student is introduced to the practical aspects of instrument design and construction and to the calculations and techniques of quantitative analysis.

Prerequisite: Laboratory 2 or permission of the instructor.

Three hours laboratory a week.

Laboratory 4 — Instrumentation II

1 Hr.

The student undertakes the practical evaluation of experimental methods and instruments best suited for specific advanced analytical problems.
Prerequisite: Laboratory 3.

Three hours laboratory a week.

Laboratory 5 — Physical Chemistry I

1 Hr.

The student is introduced to the basic devices for precise physical and chemical measurements.
Prerequisite: Laboratory 4.

Three hours laboratory a week.

Laboratory 6 — Synthesis I

1 Hr.

Course introduces the student to the basic experimental techniques of advanced chemical synthesis of both organic and inorganic compounds.
Prerequisite: Laboratory 2.

Three hours laboratory a week.

Laboratory 7 — Synthesis II

1 Hr.

A continuation of Laboratory 6 and the introduction of the student to organic qualitative analysis.
Prerequisite: Laboratory 6.

Three hours laboratory a week.

Laboratory 8 — Biochemistry I

1 Hr.

Basic principles and techniques of biochemical laboratory investigation introduced; work is quantitative in nature.
Prerequisite: Laboratory 3 and 6 or permission of the instructor.

Three hours laboratory a week.

Laboratory 9 — Biochemistry II

1 Hr.

Course is a continuation of Laboratory 8 with special emphasis given to advanced biochemical methodology and to quantitative measurement.
Prerequisite: Laboratory 8.

Three hours laboratory a week.

Laboratory 10 — Biochemistry III

1 Hr.

Classical clinical laboratory methods used to investigate the influence of carbohydrate, protein, lipid, hormonal, and inorganic constituents of body fluids on the physiological state of the individual animal. Open to advanced students by permission of the instructor.

Three hours laboratory a week.

Mathematics

It is the nature of mathematics to examine concepts from nearly all areas of thought using a uniquely abstract and deductive approach. Although mathematical investigation often involves the use of expressions which represent numbers, many of the discoveries of the discipline extend beyond the quantitative.

Careers

The department of mathematics offers courses which reflect the general nature of mathematics while providing the student with an understanding of special tools such as statistics and calculus. The student majoring in mathematics can choose a program which provides preparation for teaching at the secondary school level, pursuing actuarial work or work with computers, or continuing the study of mathematics in graduate school. In addition, a rigorous training in mathematics is excellent intellectual conditioning for a wide variety of careers.

Computer Center

Queens has a computer center with an on-campus IBM 5100 computer, and with direct access to both an IBM 370, Model 165 and a Hewlett-Packard 2000. The computer center is equipped with a teletype, card punch, card reader and printer, and electronic calculators.

Major

A major in mathematics consists of Calculus I, II, III, IV, V, Linear Algebra, and a course from each of the following fields of mathematics: Algebra (401); Analysis (415, 416); Applied Mathematics (405, 406, 409); Computer Science (100, 200, 300); Geometry/Topology (304, 307). Physics 101 and 102 are strongly recommended.

Minor

A minor in mathematics consists of Calculus I, II, III, a three hour course numbered 200 or above, and two additional three hour courses numbered 300 or above.

Distributed Requirements

Any three hour course numbered 105 or above can be used to satisfy the distributed requirements for Area II. Mathematics 103 counts for three distribution hours if taken with any three hour course numbered 105 or above.

100 Introduction to Programming

1 Hr.

Writing and running simple programs in the Basic Language; flow-charting.

101 Precalculus Mathematics

3 Hrs.—Offered on demand

Sets; equations and inequalities; mathematical induction; relations, functions and their graphs; trigonometric functions.

This course is for students who plan to major in mathematics or the natural sciences but who do not have the preparation for Mathematics 112.

102 Business Mathematics

3 Hrs.

A review of basic mathematics followed by the study of the fundamentals of percentage, simple interest, compound interest, and annuities, with applications.

103 Mathematics for the Elementary Teacher

3 Hrs.

Designed for early childhood and intermediate teacher certification. Sets and logic; enumeration conventions; the integers; number theory; rational numbers; metric geometry.

105 Finite Mathematics

3 Hrs.

Statements, connectives, truth-tables and valid arguments; sets and their relation to statements; partitions and counting problems; probability and matrices.

112 Calculus I

3 Hrs.

Limits and continuity; the derivative and its applications, including curve-sketching and maximum/minimum problems; the law of the mean.
Prerequisite: Mathematics 101 or its equivalent.

200 Cobol Programming

2 Hrs.

Students will learn to write and run programs in the Common Business Oriented Language (COBOL). The course will also include a brief introduction to IBM OS 370 Job Control Language and to system utilities.
Prerequisite: Mathematics 100.

206 Statistical Methods

3 Hrs.

Introduction to the concept of statistical inference with emphasis on applications using the normal, t, chi-square, and F distributions. Primarily for persons concentrating in the behavioral or social sciences.
Prerequisite: Mathematics 101, 105, or 112.

211, 212 Calculus II, III

3, 3 Hrs.

The law of the mean; related rates; the definite integral; exponential and logarithmic functions; circular and hyperbolic functions; L'Hospital's rule; formal integration; surfaces and curves; vector functions; partial derivatives.
Prerequisite: Mathematics 112 or its equivalent.

250 Mathematics Practicum

3 Hrs.

A student will work with a local firm under the joint supervision of a representative of the firm and a member of the mathematics department. The work will usually require a background in computing (such as supplied by Mathematics 100) or in elementary statistics (Mathematics 206). This course is on a Pass/No Record basis.

Admission by permission of the department.

300 Fortran Programming

3 Hrs.

An introduction to FORTRAN programming, including DO loops, arrays, and subroutines. The student will write, debug, and run programs to process numerical and non-numerical information.
Prerequsite: Mathematics 211, previously or concurrently, or permission of the instructor.

303 Linear Algebra

3 Hrs.

Coordinate geometry; vectors and three-dimensional geometry; matrices and determinants; linear transformations.
Prerequisite: Mathematics 112.

304 Geometry

Term I—3 Hrs.

Modern approach to the study of Euclidean and non Euclidean geometries, including incidence and affine geometries; designed especially for students preparing to teach.

307 Introduction to Topology

3 Hrs.

An examination of continuity, connectedness, and compactness.
Prerequisite: Mathematics 211.

311, 312 Calculus IV, V

3, 3 Hrs.

Multiple integrals; series; tangent fields; series solutions of equations; exact and first order linear equations; homogeneous and nonhomogeneous linear equations with constant coefficients; systems of equations.
Prerequisite: Mathematics 212. Calculus IV and V may be taken in either order.

401 Introduction to Modern Algebra

3 Hrs.

Presentation of the theory of integral domains, fields, groups, rings, vector spaces, matrices, and other selected topics.
Prerequisite: Mathematics 212.

405 Introduction to Probability and Mathematical Statistics

3 Hrs.

Introductory study of probability as a mathematical system; random variables and distribution functions; mathematical models; testing hypotheses; estimation of parameters.
Prerequisite: Mathematics 211.

406 Statistical Inference

3 Hrs.

Study of the relation of sample to population with the consideration of statistical problems such as testing of hypotheses, estimation, and experimental design.
Prerequisite: Mathematics 212 and permission of the instructor.

409 Numerical Analysis

3 Hrs.

Roots of algebraic and transcendental equations; difference calculus and interpolation; matrix inversion and eigenvalue problems for differential equations.
Prerequisite: Mathematics 312; may be taken concurrently.

415 Introduction to Real Variable Theory

3 Hrs.

The real numbers; set theory; metric spaces; Euclidean spaces; uniform continuity; series of functions; the Riemann-Stieltjes integral.
Prerequisite: Mathematics 312.

416 Introduction to Complex Analysis

3 Hrs.

Algebra and geometry of complex numbers; analytic functions; contour integrals; Taylor and Laurent series; conformal mappings.
Prerequisite: Mathematics 312; may be taken concurrently.

425 Mathematics Seminar

3 Hrs.

Seminar in advanced topics of mathematics.

Open to seniors in the mathematics department with permission of the instructor.
Prerequisite: Mathematics 312.

Nuclear Medical Technology

The department offers work leading to the degree of Bachelor of Science with a major in nuclear medical technology and a two-year program leading to the degree of Associate of Science in nuclear medical technology.

Major: Bachelor of Science

Biology 111, 112, 120, 402, 402L; Chemistry 101, 102, 303, 403, 405; Chemistry Labs 1, 2, 6, 8, 10; English 101, 109; Mathematics 100, 112, 206, 300; Nuclear Medicine 100, 101, 102, 103P, 104, 200, 200L. 202, 204, 205P, 206P, 302, 302L. 307; Physics 101, 102; Psychology 302.

Associate of Science in Nuclear Medical Technology

Required for the associate degree are Biology 111, 112, 120; Chemistry 101, 102, 303, 403; Chemistry Labs 1, 2, 6, 8; English 101, 109; Mathematics 112, 206; Nuclear Medicine 100, 101, 102, 103P, 104, 200, 200L, 202, 204, 205P, 206P, 302, 302L; Physics 101, 102; Psychology 302. Two physical education credits with a grade of P are also required.

Distributed Requirements

Nuclear medicine courses may not be used to fulfill distributed requirements.

100 Medical Terminology

1 Hr.

A study of basic medical terminology designed to acquaint the student with the correct spelling and pronunciation of medical and anatomical terms. Instruction will rely largely upon audio-visual resources.

101 Nuclear Medical Technology I

1 Hr.

A study of the nuclear medical technology which emphasizes special "in virto" procedures. An introductory course in clinical nuclear medicine. The basic principles of the major "in vivo" studies and major clinical nuclear medicine procedures will be discussed.

102 Nuclear Medical Technology II

1 Hr.

An introduction to the radio pharmaceuticals and instruments used in nuclear medicine. Radiation safety procedures will be discussed.
Prerequisite: Nuclear Medicine 101.

103P Nuclear Medical Technology Internship

Summer — 6 Hrs.

Practical experience in a clinical setting with emphasis on scanning. Radiation protection practices and routine quality control of instrumental accuracy will be observed and used. Practical experience in a clinical setting with emphasis on the more advanced applications of nuclear medicine procedures. Preparation and use of rediopharmaceuticals; preparation of the patient for such studies.
Prerequisite: Nuclear Medicine 102.

104 Radiobiology and Radiopharmacy

4 Hrs.

A course in which the fundamentals of radiobiology, a systems sensitivity (normal and neoplastic) to radiation, radiation pathology and the biological effects of radiation are stressed. Emphasis is placed upon the effects of radiation and the effects of radiation absorption on tissue recovery rate. An introduction to the function of the radiopharmacy, production of radionuclides, quality control of radiopharmaceuticals and radiopharmacy mathematics.
Prerequisite: Nuclear Medicine 101.

200 Nuclear Medicine Instrumentation

3 Hrs.

A study of practical electronic design of radiation detection instruments and circuit construction. Use of instruments such as the Geiger-Muller counter, ionization chambers, proportional counters, and radiation monitoring devices are discussed. A study in detail of the use of the well-counter, scanners, cameras, single and multi-channel analyzers as related to clinical medicine. Emphasis is placed upon Na I (TI) detectors. GeLi detectors, amplifiers, spectrometers, ratemeters and scalers. Statistics related to nuclear counting are introduced.
Prerequisite: Nuclear Medicine 102, Physics 102.

200L Nuclear Medicine Instrumentation Laboratory

2 Hrs.

A lab course which complements Nuclear Medicine 200. An understanding of instrumentation discussed in lecture is gained through experimental and practical use.
Corequisite: Nuclear Medicine 200.

202 Radioimmunoassay

4 Hrs.

A review of the basic units of measurement with emphasis on the metric system. The organization of living matter from the chemical point of view is discussed. Emphasis will be placed on protein structure and competitive protein binding analysis.
Prerequste: Nuclear Medicine 200.

204 Principles of Nuclear Medicine

3 Hrs.

Principles and applications of radionuclide studies of the gastrointestinal and cardiopulmonary systems.
Prequisite: Nuclear Medicine 102.

205P Laboratory Practicum (Principles of Nuclear Medicine)

1 - 2 Hrs.

Directed clinical learning experience in special areas of the nuclear medicine laboratory. Radionuclide generators, radiation safety, management and administration of nuclear medicine department will be presented in lecture series.
Corequisite: Nuclear Medicine 204 or permission of the instructor.

206P Nuclear Medical Internship II

Summer — 12 Hrs.

Practical experience in a clinical setting with emphasis on "in vitro" procedures and therapeutic use of radionuclides. A detailed study of the design and use of specific instruments utilized in clinical nuclear medicine. Performance of more sophisticated studies in "in vitro" and "in vivo" procedures employing radioisotopes and practical therapeutic use of radionuclides.

Prerequisites: Nuclear Medicine 103P and 204.

302 Nuclear Physics and Health Physics

3 Hrs.

An introduction to the concepts of atomic and nuclear radiation physics. Nuclear decay schemes and concepts of radioactive decay are discussed followed by a thorough discussion of the interactions of radiation with matter. Health physics will entail a study of radiation safety, procedures for reducing the exposure of physicians, technologists and patients, Atomic Energy Commission and North Carolina State Regulations and radiation monitoring methods used in nuclear medicine departments.
Prerequisite: Nuclear Medicine 200.

302L Nuclear Physics and Health Physics Laboratory

1 Hr.

A lab course accompanying Nuclear Medicine 302. An understanding of theory obtained in lecture is gained through experimentation with nuclear physics and health physics principles.
Corequisite: Nuclear Medicine 302.

307 Radiation Dosimetry and Advanced Health Physics

3 Hrs.

Topics in all areas of radiation dosimetry will be discussed. Particular emphasis will be placed on internal radiation dosimetry and health physics problems as related to the field of nuclear medicine.
Prerequisite: Nuclear Medicine 302 or permission of the instructor.

Physics

Distributed Requirements

Physics 101, 102, or 103 will meet the requirements, Area IV.

101, 102 General Physics

4, 4 Hrs.

Beginning course in physics covering the fundamental principles of mechanics, heat, sound, light, electricity and magnetism, and atomic physics.
Prerequisite: Elementary algebra and plane geometry; Physics 101 or Physics 102.
Three hours lecture and three hours laboratory each week.

103 Physics of Sound

3 Hrs.

An elementary treatment of generation, propagation, and detection of sound; designed primarily for music majors, but should be of interest to anyone with some music background.
Two hours lecture and two hours laboratory each week.

105 Radiologic Physics

Summer School—4 Hrs.

Selected topics in mechanics, atom structure, electricity and magnetism, ionizing radiation, production and properties of x-rays, radiation dosimetry and protection; designed to provide students in a radiologic technology program with a basic understanding of the physical principles involved in the generation and use of x-rays.
Offered during summer school only; four weeks; 10 lecture hours and nine laboratory hours per week.
Students may not receive credit for both Physics 102 and Physics 105.

Special Programs

Washington Semester

Through a cooperative arrangement with the American University, two Queens students annually may spend one term in Washington, D.C., for a study of American National Government in Action. The study is carried out through a seminar on Government in Action, an individual research project, and regular courses at the American University. Applicants must have completed Political Science 201 and have a quality point average of 2.600 or above. Application should be made through the department of political science.

Triangle Universities Computer Program

As a member of the North Carolina Educational Computing Service, Queens provides its students and faculty with the computer resources of the Triangle Universities Computer Center by direct teletype connection.

Marine Biology Program

The department of biology offers a four-week summer session in marine biology at Pawleys Island, South Carolina. In addition to the usual laboratory facilities and equipment, the college maintains a 28-foot boat for offshore collecting. Advanced students may undertake independent studies in the marine field.

In addition, Queens offers a special exchange program with the Gulf Coast Research Laboratory in Ocean Springs, Mississippi.

On-Campus Summer Programs

Queens operates a summer program consisting of two 3-week terms held during May and June. In addition to regular catalogue courses, there are special workshops and liberal arts offerings to meet experienced teachers' needs for certification renewal. Information on summer programs may be obtained from the Dean of the College.

Continuing and Adult Education

Queens College sponsors a program of continuing education recognizing that opportunities in higher education should be available to members of the community who wish to continue study or to develop particular interests.

Charlotte Area Educational Consortium

Queens participates in the Charlotte Area Education Consortium, which includes 11 public and private colleges and universities in and near Charlotte. Through the consortium the resources of all participating institutions are available to Queens students who, if qualified, may enroll at one of the other colleges in any course not offered at Queens and receive full credit toward the Queens degree without the payment of additional fees.

Exchange Program with Davidson College

Queens College participates in a cooperative program of junior year exchange with Davidson College. Students at either college may elect to take the junior year at the other upon the recommendation of the college where the student is a degree candidate and the concurrence of the college where the student plans to study during the junior year. Recommendations are based on the demonstrated academic ability of the applicant, the approval of the proposed course of study, and the availability of space in particular courses or departments.

Students participating in the exchange are considered degree candidates at the college of original enrollment and are expected to return to that campus at the conclusion of the year. While participating in the exchange, students enjoy all the privileges and assume all the responsibilities of regular students at the host institution.

Internships

Queens College affirms its support of properly planned and supervised internships as useful and desirable educational experiences for its students. The college defines internships as out-of-class work experiences which use skills and theories learned in classroom settings.

Internships are of two types: exploratory internships and professional internships. The exploratory internship enables a student to gain knowledge in an area in which she may have an interest and to explore areas in which she may wish to develop a career. The student may earn a maximum of nine hours credit toward graduation requirements through exploratory internships. The professional internships are listed as catalogue courses and encompass practicums, field placement courses, major internships, and student teaching programs. These internships are an integral part of the academic program and are limited only by the requirements of a given major as described in the catalogue.

To be eligible for internships students should have the academic training necessary as a basis for such experiences. Generally, internships are restricted to upperclassmen; however, freshmen and sophomores with unusual backgrounds in or strong motivation for such work experiences are not excluded from participating in internships.

The student and a faculty internship advisor plan an internship. The advisor reports a grade and serves as a contact person on-campus for the intern and the project supervisor. Off-campus arrangements for internships are the responsibility of the student and the faculty internship advisor.

The student and faculty advisor are responsible for following the college internship guidelines that are available in the office of the Dean of the College.

Government Internship Program

Queens College students may choose to participate in a government internship program designed to provide an understanding of practical politics as well as an introduction to government employment. The Queens program is based upon cooperation with existing programs sponsored by or with local, state, or national government institutions. There are also major efforts made to arrange individual internships outside these programs that may be tailored to the special needs or interests of a particular student.

Some of the internship opportunities involve stipends which may be used to defray the costs of the internship to the student.

Students who enroll for internships should have a sound background in the social sciences as well as upperclass standing. Students who do not meet these qualifications are not prohibited from participating, but the type of internship for which they may qualify may be circumscribed.

Queens at Oxford Program

Queens College participates in a cooperative program of exchange with Warnborough House College, a private British college of higher education which is organized and administered by academics trained in the British educational system and located in Oxford, England.

Degree candidates at Queens College in good academic standing and with permission from both institutions may elect to study at Warnborough House College in any segment of the academic year up to a full academic year. First term freshmen are not allowed to participate. Final term seniors are not encouraged to participate. Likewise, Queens College is used by women students from Warnborough House College.

While participating in the exchange, students enjoy all the privileges and assume all the responsibilities of regular students at the host institution. Fees are payable to the host institution.

International Education

During the regular academic year, qualified students with at least a C average may study abroad under selected programs. The Foreign Student Advisor, in cooperation with the Dean of the College and the major advisor, must give prior approval to each applicant and each program.

The one-term program of the Experiment in International Living permits a student to earn as many as nine credit hours in various European countries, India, or Ghana; or as many as 12 credit hours if an independent study project is completed.

Queens also participates in the Association of United Colleges for Foreign Exchange and Study which provides Junior Year Programs in Strasbourg, France; Heidelberg, Germany; Lancaster, England; and at the London School of Economics.

(For further information concerning study abroad, refer to the section on the major in European studies listed under "Courses of Instruction.")

The Campus

Queens College is located on a large wooded campus in the Myers Park area of Charlotte and is bounded by Selwyn, Radcliffe, and Wellesley Avenues. The Georgian buildings constructed in 1914 when the college was moved to this site have been extensively remodeled and continue in use. Their architectural motif of red brick with white trim has been incorporated in the more modern buildings.

Burwell Hall, 1914, is the focal point of the campus facing Selwyn Avenue. The building, in addition to housing the administrative offices, has parlors which serve as a spacious reception area for guests and social events. Robert Burwell served as president of the Charlotte Female Institute from 1857 to 1872; and his wife, Margaret Anna Burwell, was teacher and principal.

Everett Library, 1960, is the center of the campus facing Radcliffe Avenue. It honors Herschel Hill Everett and his wife, Cornelia Nisbett Everett. Mr. Everett served as acting president, 1953-54; and chairman of the board, 1952-1967. The library houses the present collection of 86,000 volumes, and has a potential capacity for 200,000. It is an open stack library with conference rooms, lounges, student and faculty carrels, and microfilm equipment. The large mosaic tile mural on the facade depicts the areas of knowledge available within the liberal arts college.

Belk Chapel, 1950, was a gift made to Queens by the families and associates of William Henry Belk and Dr. John M. Belk, in their honor. Greek revival in architecture, it is equipped with a 39 rank organ, seats 750, and is used for weekly chapel and for other religious services and meetings.

The E. H. Little Fine Arts Center, 1966, contains the Suzanne Trezevant Little Recital Hall, the Charles A. Dana Auditorium, studios, practice rooms, and classrooms for music and drama. Convocations, concerts, recitals, plays, and lectures are scheduled in the auditorium, which seats 1,000. Major donors of this facility were E. H. Little and Charles A. Dana.

The Dana Classroom Building, 1961, honors Charles A. Dana, a generous benefactor of Queens College, and contains a large lecture hall, a language laboratory, classrooms, and seminar offices designed for small, informal classes.

The Walker Science Building, 1966, with its laboratories, classrooms, and research facilities for biology, chemistry, and physics, honors Dr. and Mrs. Edwin R. Walker. He was Queens' former president and chancellor.

McEwen Hall, 1914, was renovated in 1967, to provide 20 spacious classrooms and a number of faculty offices. It is named for Dr. Mildred Morse McEwen, alumna and professor emeritus of chemistry.

Watkins Hall, 1914, is named after Miss Mildred C. Watkins, member of the faculty from 1895 to 1909. It was remodeled in 1952 and again in 1978; it now houses the art department and exhibition galleries.

Morrison Hall, 1927, is named for its donor, Mrs. Cameron Morrison, and includes a large dining hall, kitchen, auxiliary rooms, dormitory space, and bookstore.

Jernigan Student Center, 1914, was completely renovated in 1963 and redecorated in 1976. It comprises the post office, snack shop, lounges, and offices for student government and student publications. Charlton Coney Jernigan was president of Queens from 1951 to 1953.

Ovens Physical Education Building, 1954, includes a large gymnasium, classrooms, a dance studio, and an Olympic-size swimming pool. David Ovens, business executive and merchant, was a Queens trustee and benefactor.

Carol Hall, 1957, was the gift of Irwin Belk, Queens trustee, and is named in honor of his wife, Carol Grotnes Belk.

The William H. Barnhardt Center, completed in 1965, honors Mr. and Mrs. William H. Barnhardt; Mr. Barnhardt is a member of the Board of Trustees. Three other buildings are named respectively for Dr. Elizabeth H. Blair, former dean of instruction; Mr. and Mrs. W. Z. Stultz, donors; and Miss Laura A. Tillett, professor emeritus of English. These buildings are used for administrative and instructional purposes.

The Irwin-McKay Infirmary, 1958, was the gift of Thomas M. Belk and his wife, Katherine McKay Belk, honoring Dr. John R. Irwin, Dr. Hamilton W. McKay, and Dr. Henderson Irwin. It provides 12 hospital bods, rooms for consultations and treatment, and quarters for resident nurses.

Long Residence Hall, 1914, is named for Miss Lily W. Long, who served the college for half a century and was herself president from 1891 to 1899. Belk Residence Hall, 1954, honors the late Mrs. William Henry Belk, alumna, trustee, and benefactor; it was a gift to Queens from Mrs. Belk's sons and daughter. Harris Residence Hall, 1960, honors James J. Harris, vice-chairman of the Board of Trustees, and his wife, Angelia Morrison Harris. Wallace Residence Hall, 1962, honors Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Wallace and family. Mrs. Wallace was an alumna, and J. Mason Wallace, Jr., is a college trustee. Albright Residence Hall, 1964, is named in honor of Miss Thelma Albright, formerly dean of students, and a long time faculty member at Queens.

The campus also includes three duplex lodges for sororities, a power plant, and maintenance shops. Several college residences are adjacent to the campus.
